Susie Brown, Defendant in Gold Fish "Farm" Case, Placed on Stand After Court Ruling

ARGUMENT FOR FIVE HOURS

Judge Springer Rules Favorably on Motion to Find Separately For Miss Brown

The Trackwell-Irvin suit took a sudden turn today, when at the conclusion of the defendant's evidence motions were filed asking the court to find for all of the defendants separately. The argument on these motions required almost five hours and the court was cited much law on the question by all the attorneys.

The question as to the responsibility of Susie Brown and her right to be made a defendant to the accounting had gradually come to the front in the past two days of the trial and that the motion should center on her caused no surprise. Judge Springer found for Miss Brown, but the motion as to Mrs. Irvin and Chester Heck was overruled.

Miss Brown was the bookkeeper of the firm of Shoup and Heck and was the recognized agent of Mrs. Shoup following the death of Mr. Shoup. The defense maintained that she was not a party to the issues in the case because she did not have a fund in trust and merely acted as the agent for Mrs. Shoup. A special finding of law and facts with the verdict for Miss Brown.

By finding for Miss Brown a way was opened for the placing of Miss Brown on the witness stand, which was expected to help the defendants. Under the law a defendant in this kind of an action is not a competent witness and therefore Miss Brown could not testify before the court made his ruling as to her. She was placed on the stand immediately after the court made his decision.

It was expected that Judge Springer would keep the attorneys in court this evening until the case was completed. The argument will be postponed for a few weeks. He has business needing his attention in Connersville and was determined that the case should end today as far as the introduction of evidence was concerned.

While the argument in the Trackwell suit was going on, Judge Blair of Shelbyville impaneled a jury in the case of Harry Hudson against the estate of the late Jared Binford. Judge Blair was selected special judge after it was found that he had declared a two days' recess in the Shelby circuit court. The Trackwell case took so many attorneys from Shelbyville that Judge Blair found it next to impossible to hold court.

The case is a claim against the estate in which $7,000 is demanded. The action is brought against Ella Melvaine, the administratrix. The suit is of especial interest to the Carthage community and a large crowd of people from that section of the county was in attendance at the start of the trial.

Little difficulty was had in securing a jury which is composed of the following: James K. Posey, Fred Woods, Luther Gwynup, Thomas Mills, Corydon Kiser, Jesse Logan, Elwood Kirkwood, William J. Brown, Charles Z. Mohler, John A. Campbell, Carey O. Patton, Charles H. Foust.

In the case of the Rush County National bank against the estate of the late Dr. J. G. Lewis, on a note demanding $309, the court found for the plaintiff and awarded judgment for $353.22, including attorney fees.

KATHRYN HINCHMAN DIES

Former Rushville Woman Expires at Home in Indianapolis

Word has been received here by relatives of the death of Mrs. Kathryn Hinchman, widow of the late James P. Hinchman, who died last evening at 11 o'clock in Indianapolis. She was 78 years of age and her death was caused by heart trouble. Her former home was in this city and she is survived by a number of relatives here, among them Mrs. Rebecca Hinchman of North Main street, who is her sister-in-law. The funeral will be at the home of Joseph Hinchman in East Washington street in Indianapolis at 10 o'clock Saturday morning and burial at Crown Hill cemetery.

SEVEN COUNTIES TO BE REPRESENTED

Business Men Coming Here Next Wednesday For Meeting to Discuss Credit Condition

SPEAKERS ARE ANNOUNCED

The meeting of business men's associations here next Wednesday will include representatives from organizations in Decatur, Shelby, Hancock, Henry, Fayette, Union and Rush counties. The gathering will be held for the purpose of discussing credit conditions, of interest to all business men in this section of the state.

The principal speaker will be Albert Bristor of Indianapolis, who will discuss "Legislation." Other speakers will be Roy C. Kanouse of Greensburg, former president of the State Shoe Dealers' association, who will talk on "Organization." Fred Leiter of Connersville will speak on the subject, "Credits."

The first session will be held at 1:30 in the afternoon and the second one at 7:30 in the evening. They will take place in the court house assembly room.

LOCAL MINISTER IS NEW MODERATOR

The Rev. D. Ira Lambert is Honored by Whitewater Presbytery at Session Just Closed

SUCCEEDS RICHMOND MAN

The Rev. D. Ira Lambert, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was elected moderator of the Whitewater Presbytery at the semi-annual meeting which closed in Newcastle last night. Dr. Lambert succeeds the Rev. Elmer E. Davis, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Richmond.

The meeting was attended by seventy-five delegates from twenty counties in the district. The Rev. T. F. Campbell of Rising Sun was named as ministerial delegate and E. C. Green of Newcastle as the lay delegate to the General Assembly, the law making body of the church.

At the business session yesterday reports were heard from all of the standing committees and the progress of the church during the last year was shown. The Rev. John T. Steele of the First church, Indianapolis, delivered a temperance sermon yesterday afternoon.

INQUIRE ABOUT LAW VIOLATION

Authorities Write Here to Learn Names of Those Not Complying With State Statute

COMPENSATION LAW EVADED

Held to be Unfair For Contractors Not to Obey it Because Building is Liable

Letters have been received by compensation insurance agents from the state authorities inquiring whether there are any employers of labor here violating the workmen's compensation law. Some agents have said that there are a number of employers in Rush county who have not complied with the law largely because they do not know that they are violating it.

Attention has been called to the fact that if a person engages a contractor to erect a house and that contractor has not protected the carpenters which he employs with compensation insurance, the person building the house would be liable in case of accident.

For that reason, it is held by many to be unfair to persons letting contracts for contractors not to comply with the law when they are endangering the interest of those with whom they have contracted.

Of course, it is pointed out, there are exceptions. A contract may be let to a joint-contracting firm which does not employ labor in constructing a building. But when the contractor employing labor has no insurance, the liability must be assumed by the party employing the contract and the liability, in case of an accident, becomes a lien on the property.

The general intent of the law is that liability attaches to anyone employing labor of any kind whether or not he is a regular contractor. Farmers are the exception of the law, that is only in the case of a farm laborer. It is shown that if a farmer should employ carpenters to build a house on his farm without letting a contract to one man, he would be liable and should have compensation insurance.

Other instances have been cited of evading the law. The statute makes provision for rejection of the operations of it. But in case a man rejects it as to his business and then engages in a side line, he is evading the law if he does not take out compensation insurance or reject it as to that particular work.

It is also pointed out that persons engaging in a new line of business since the law took effect should comply with it at once because they would be evading it in the same sense as those who did not comply when the law became effective.

NOT DESERTION;
SHE CHASED ME
AWAY, SAYS TIM

"You are charged in an affidavit filed here with wife desertion," said Judge Sparks this morning to Tim McGraw.

"Begorra, yer honor and she chased me away," replied McGraw in a rich Irish brogue.

Judge Sparks told him he did not desire to go into the merits of the case and took McGraw's answer to mean a plea of not guilty. His bond was placed at $500 and Tim was allowed to go on his own recognizance. The affidavit against McGraw was filed by his wife, Bridget McGraw.

MAY SEND ARTER TO THE "CHAIR"

Testimony of Rushville Woman Widow of Murdered Man, Plays Part in Muncie Trial

MRS. ROBT. HESTER ON STAND

Harrowing Details of Killing of Her Husband by Boarder in Her Home Are Described

The trial of Jesse L. Arter, charged with killing Robert Hester, colored, now in progress at Muncie is attracting considerable attention in Rushville because Hester, the murdered man married a Rushville woman—a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Richardson. A number of local colored people are in Muncie for the trial.

Mrs. Hester, the widow of the murdered man, was on the witness stand yesterday and many attorneys in Muncie are of the opinion that her testimony will send Arter to the electric chair. She told all of the details of the murder. The following is from the Muncie Press regarding the case:

Harrowing details of the murder of Robert Hester, colored, 51, at the hands of Jesse L. Arter, 33, also colored, were told by the widow of the murdered man when she was placed on the witness stand in behalf of the state in the circuit court room Tuesday.

Sobbing, she told how Hester had been stabbed and slashed by Arter in her home at 501 East Willard street, November 21 last. She told too, how Arter had come to the Hester home in a sullen mood on the evening of the tragedy and how he had become infuriated by Hester's admonition that he (Arter) "stop swearing."

"He bragged about having killed two other men," she said, and Arter flinched.

Cross-examined by Walter Gray, for the defendant, Mrs. Hester stuck closely to her story and could not be swerved.

The Tennessee Federation of Miners has come to Arter's aid. A subscription, said to amount to more than $200 was received here from this federation Tuesday. Arter immediately engaged Attorneys Thomas V. Miller and Clarence Benadum to aid the attorney for the poor, Walter Gray, in the defense.

Because they asserted, they have already paid out $400 to Walter Gray, attorney for the poor, the county council Monday afternoon refused to appropriate $400 asked for by the defendant to aid in his fight for life.

Attorneys who heard the testimony of Mrs. Hester asserted it might send Arter to the electric chair. An attorney for the defense it is said, admitted the evidence would be heard to overcome.

Under the stinging lash of the opening argument for the state, Arter fairly cowered. He leaned forward in his chair but rarely moved except to glance at the jury occasionally and then across at the widow of the man he is accused with having killed.

Mr. Cromer's opening statement to the jury occupied more than an hour. He told of the crime from start to finish. And he indicated that the state will try to send Arter to the electric chair, and that the state is in possession of evidence that will show, beyond a reasonable doubt, that Arter killed Hester with premeditated malice and forethought.

Details of the occurrences which lead up to the murder were told by Mr. Cromer. He described the in-

PAYS FINE AT GLENWOOD

Raymond Nesbit Pleads Guilty to Assaulting Marshal.

Raymond Nesbit pleaded guilty to an assault and battery charge in the court of Squire Thompson in Glenwood this morning and was fined one dollar and costs, amounting in all to $8.95. A charge of provoke was dismissed when he entered a plea of guilty to the assault and battery case. The case against Nesbit was the result of the recent trouble there with Marshal Monroe Brooks. Nesbit paid his fine.

RICHARD H. DAVIS, NOTED AUTHOR, DIES

Famous War Correspondent and Short Story Writer Expires at New York Home

JUST RETURNED FROM EUROPE

(By United Press.) New York, April 12.—Richard Harding Davis, noted war correspondent and author, is dead.

Davis dropped dead from heart failure while talking over the telephone in his home at Mt. Kisco at 9:30 last night, it was learned today.

Davis was receiving a telegram over the phone when stricken. He died before medical aid could be summoned. The author was about his home throughout yesterday apparently feeling well although he had been in poor health for two weeks.

Davis was born in Philadelphia in 1864 and was 52 years old at the time of his death. Beginning as a newspaper reporter, he attracted attention by his magazine writing and some of his stories were considered models of English literature. A number of his works have been dramatized.

At the beginning of the war Davis went to Europe. He spent several weeks abroad writing for newspapers and magazines and only recently returned from another trip, this time to the allied front in southern Serbia. Recently he contributed a number of articles to magazines on the subject of national preparedness. His present wife was formerly Bessie McCoy, a musical comedy star whom he married after his first wife, the daughter of a prominent family, divorced him four years ago.

GERMANS ARE REPULSED

Attack Seems to Lack Power of Saturday Night Offensive

By ED. L. KEEN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, April 12.—With a heavy liquid fire attack against Caurette woods, the crown prince early today resumed the attempt to crush the northwestern defense of Verdun on the fifty-second day of the battle for the fortress. A narrow sector of the French front from a point northeast of Dead Man's hill is under attack. Severe fighting is still in progress but the German thrust apparently lacks the power of the Saturday night offensive. The French war office announced the repulse of all German attacks.

The state will receive a total of $24.12 for the inheritance tax from the estate of the late James H. Bell, according to the report of Inheritance Tax Commissioner Schrader. The estate totalled $14,412.

Carranzista General Then Expects to be Able to Effect Bandit's Capture

OVER A MILLION
SPENT IN CHASE
FOR PANCHO VILLA

Washington, April 12.—More than one million dollars has been spent thus far by the United States in its hunt for Pancho Villa.

The war department estimated today the monthly cost over and above ordinary running expenses has been $100,000 while $900,000 has been spent for auto trucks and gasoline tank cars.

(By United Press.) Washington, April 12.—A cablegram from General Obregon to the Mexican embassy today said Villa, according to his report, has gone into the mountains wounded with less than 150 men.

The message from Queretaro said:

"The bandit Villa has lost all his followers during the recent battles forced on him by our troops, and it is confirmed that he was wounded in the battle of Cieneguita. General Luis Herrera informs me that Villa has gone into the mountains wounded and with less than 150 men. I have given orders for such necessary movements as will completely destroy the men who are taking care of him and which will cause his capture."

BATTLE REPORTED

(By United Press.) El Paso, Texas, April 12.—A battle was reported today to have been fought between Jimenez and Parral but on account of the Carranzista censorship the forces engaged were not made known.

A Mexican central train ran into the fight, later returning to Jimenez whence the censored reports were sent to the border. It is not known here whether American forces engaged in the fighting.

PROTESTS FURTHER ABOUT THE SERVICE

Congressman Finly Gray Filed 1,000

Letters to Show Farmers Are Dissatisfied.

DON'T LIKE MOTOR ROUTES

Richmond, Ind., Apr. 12.—In filing a thousand letters of protest against the motorized rural route mail service in Wayne county, Representative Finly H. Gray submitted his own recommendations to the post office department that no route be longer than 35 miles. Mr. Gray is opposed to the motorized service, and recently supported the bill which passed the house and which provides for discontinuance of all motorized routes and for the putting of horse drawn vehicles back into the service.

The letters, Mr. Gray said, were written by farmers of this county who are served under the new system. The writers declare that it is impossible for the carriers to cover 50 mile routes effectively, point out the delay in receipt of mail and of mistakes made, and demand shorter routes.

Recently advocates of the fifty-mile rural routes, who include certain employees of the government, have been declaring that the service in this county is now as satisfactory as under the old system.

NEW REPUBLIC IN CHINA IS PROBABLE

Following Lead of Another, Important Maritime Province of Che-Kiang Secedes Today

POPULATION NEAR 100,000,000.

(By United Press.) Shanghai, April 12.—Formation of a new republic of southern China with a population of about 100,000,000 may be announced within a few weeks.

Following the lead of the province Kwang Tung, the important maritime province of Che-Kiang, on the Eastern sea, today seceded from the republic. Emissaries of the revolutionists have arrived in Canton, which probably will be the capital of the new republic, with word that Hunan Fuk-len and Kwei Chow provinces are about to declare their independence. The movement is spreading to all the provinces south of Yang-Tse-Kiang river.

In an effort to save the republic from dissolution, President Yuan Shi Kai has summoned revolutionary leaders to meet him in conference at Peking. The southern rebels have not yet accepted this invitation.

PEACE IS BROUGHT NEARER

Germans See Hope in Asquith's Reply to Hollweg

By CARL W. ACKERMAN (U. P. Staff Correspondent.) Berlin, April 12.—The end of the war has been brought appreciably nearer by significant developments of the last 48 hours.

Press reports of Premier Asquith's reply to Chancellor Hollweg's speech reached Berlin today. They created a mild sensation here. Disregarding certain belligerent well informed Germans interpreted Asquith's speech as indicating the time is drawing near when England will be willing to enter peace negotiations.

Fire Does $20,000 Damage to Monrovia Business District

(By United Press.) Mooresville, Ind., April 12.—Five frame business buildings in Monrovia near here were destroyed today by fire with a loss estimated at more than $20,000. The Masonic lodge room lost all records and equipment. The buildings destroyed were in the southwestern part of the business district.

RAW OYSTER IS TO BE LOOKED ON WITH SUSPICION—EXPERT

(By Samuel G. Dixon, M. D., Li D. Pennsylvania Commissioner of Health.

The raw oyster today is to be looked upon with suspicion. Great care should be observed in purchasing them. The seller should be known to be reliable and he should know from what beds he gets his supply. It is hard to explain why the oyster furnishes a fashionable dish when it has become the custom to supply the culls, which a few years ago would have been thrown back into their beds as being unfit for the market.

The food value of four or five of these culls is almost nil and the taste so insipid that they are flavored with strong condiments that entirely destroy what little natural flavor the culls had. It can hardly be said that these culls thrown out from the cookable oysters from various beds, are palatable. They are, however, dangerous, a they can and do sometimes carry the germs of typhoid fever.

Why, therefore, eat raw culls containing little or no nourishment with little or no taste and yet not infrequently carrying germs of disease?

$5,000,000 LOOT FOUND

(By United Press.) El Paso, Texas, April 12.—Five million dollars worth of loot taken by the late Villista general Thomas Urbina has been recovered by the Carranza military forces, according to official announcement by Consul Garcia here today.

The treasure was buried on the Las Nievas ranch in Durango. It comprised 23 boxes of gold coins, and jewelry, 20 bars of gold bullion, considerable silver bullion and loot from Mexican church, besides $800,000 in bank notes.

POISON ATTEMPT SEEN.

(By United Press.) El Paso, Texas, April 12.—Slight traces of cyanide were discovered in water along the southern route taken by the United States expedition in Mexico, according to unconfirmed reports here today. A deliberate poison plot is suspected. No illness to the American forces resulted as precautions were taken before the troops or horses were allowed to use the water.

PRICE OF PAPER IS FORCED UPWARD BY WAR

A commodity even so indirectly related to the demands of war as paper is showing the prevailing tendencies to such a degree as seriously to embarrass publishers. The higher price of paper stock and the difficulty of obtaining it at all in England was a chief factor in the discontinuance in March of the London daily Standard after a career of sixty years, for a considerable portion of which it was the most important organ of the middle classes in England. In America the demand for paper has been increasing for six months as a result of general business activity. At the same time, supplies used in its manufacture have been decreased by war conditions, and in some cases have almost been shut off. The supply of old rags is affected by the cutting off of the importations from the European peasantry and by the demand for the making of gun cotton. The chemicals used in bleaching the paper produced by sulphuric acid and alum are being devoured by the manufacturers of explosives, while importations of jute have fallen off until the price has doubled. Almost uncannily the squirrels knew when Sir Edward arrives, for they quickly make their way into the house, scale the walls and invade the library; then jumping on Sir Edward's writing table they are rewarded with nuts from the Minister's hand.

Carefully Treat Children's Colds

Neglect of children's colds often lays the foundation of serious lung trouble. On the other hand, it is harmful to continually dose delicate little stomachs with internal medicines or to keep the children always indoors. Plenty of fresh air in the bedroom and a good application of Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve over the throat and chest at the first sign of trouble, will keep the little chaps free from colds without injuring their digestions. 25c, 50c, or $1.00.

Looking Forward.

There is a tendency on the part of some writers to belittle the importance of economic questions in the coming presidential campaign, and to emphasize the importance of foreign policies as a campaign issue. It is probably true that the foreign relations of this Government will be in the spotlight for many months to come, but unless the voters of this country are afflicted with economic astigmatism they will weigh carefully the questions of our future trade and industry before casting their ballot. Humanity is still in the bread and butter stage.

There are two factors of prime importance in the consideration of these very practical questions: First the plans now being perfected abroad for trade combinations; and, second, the fact that our greatest trade rival, Germany, will emerge from the European struggle industrially unscathed, and with an army of men clamoring for work at any wage.

England has jettisoned her free trade policy. During the middle of the 19th Century, when her mechanical inventions had made it possible to control any market which would give free access to her wares, it became highly important that she operate under a free trade policy, a condition precedent to inducing other countries to do likewise. The so-called school of Manchester, of which Cobden was the chief exponent, inaugurated a free trade propaganda which very nearly, but not quite convinced Germany that open ports spelled sound economies, and which quite thoroughly convinced a large number of people in this country that free trade was the proper thing.

That was during the period when the South was a purely agricultural section. The adherence of the South to this free trade conviction has lessened in an inverse ratio as the development of agricultural industries has progressed in Dixie. At that time the South sold a large share of her products to England, where they were made up and came back to us in the form of finished materials. It is true statement that in many cases the agricultural industries of the South were utilized by Great Britain to break down the manufacturing industries of the North. Whenever, for instance, an attempt was made to build up our cotton textile industries, England, with cotton goods manufactured from Southern raw material, would drive our cotton manufacturers into bankruptcy by dumping her goods on our market at prices ridiculously low. That is one of the reasons why the protective policy took firm root in the North. But England fears German competition after the war. She was experiencing it prior to the war. Today her return to the protective policy needs but the affirmative action of Parliament. The country is well-nigh unanimously agreed on protection.

Every student of trade who has returned from Germany during the past year declares that the cessation of war will find Germany stripped to the loins and ready for the biggest commercial campaign ever staged on this planet. And Austria is going to do teamwork with Germany. The two nations are perfecting trade combinations, and the Governments themselves will enter into active partnership in all industries. State socialism is the plan.

And little Japan is sawing wood. Her wage scale is one-twelfth that of this country, and her industries are being imperialized. The end of the war will find Japan the mistress of the Pacific while we are still growling about the seamen's act.

In the face of all these considerations, what reasonable voter will fail to give heed to future economic policies? What sensible men will cast his vote for a near-free-trade, vacillating, theorizing, impractical Democracy? We must ship men of affairs on our next voyage, and they will be found in the Republican party fighting for an adequate protective tariff.

HUNDRED LEADING HOOSIERS

Hugh McCulloch (1898-1895) (31)

Hugh McCulloch, one of America's leading financiers, and Secretary of the United States treasury under three presidents, was born in Maine in 1808. After studying law in Boston he migrated to Fort Wayne and there began his practice in 1833. Turning his attention to banking he mastered the science of finance amid the changes of this rapidly developing frontier state. His services were everywhere in demand and in 1835 he became cashier and manager of the Ft. Wayne state bank. So successful was his management that when the new state bank was organized he was elected president, and under his direction it was cognized as the safest and best managed bank in the west. It went through the panic of 1857 without suspension and continued specie payment at the beginning of the war, after the government had suspended specie payment. When he resigned as president of the bank, 1863, it held $3,300.00 in gold and a capital of $3,000,000.

Hugh McCulloch (con) (31)

The success of Hugh McCulloch in managing the Indiana State bank gained for him national fame, and in 1863 President Lincoln appointed him comptroller of the treasury. It was he who put the new banking act into operation. The following year he succeeded Chase as secretary of the Treasury, provided the funds for conducting the war, and was continued in office during the entire term of President Johnson. Upon retiring he went to England, organized the London banking house of Jay Cooke, McCulloch and Company, which he directed for several years. In 1884 he was again appointed secretary of the treasury by President Arthur, and served until the end of his administration. He died at his home near Washington, D. C., on May 24, 1895.

Mrs. Zerelda G. Wallace 1817-1901.

Among Indiana's famous women, Mrs. Zerelda G. Wallace deserves mention. She was born in Kentucky in 1817, the daughter of Mr. Sanders, a prominent physician who settled in Indianapolis in 1830. At the age of nineteen she married the lieutenant-governor of the state, David Wallace, who was elected governor the following year. Although she possessed those graces and qualities that fitted her for social leadership, yet Mrs. Wallace found still greater pleasure in training the three young sons, born to the Governor by a former wife. She read their books, played their games and loved them as a mother. The sweet motherly character portrayed in that world famous novel, "Ben Hur," is none other than the author's step-mother. When the W. C. T. U. was organized in Indianapolis in 1874 Mrs. Wallace was elected its first president and served for seven years. Frances E. Willard called her the "Deborah of the Temperance Army." In later life she became the most popular woman lecturer in the west. She died on March 19, 1901.

Watson Reception
A Dramatic Scene

(Indiana Daily Times.)

There was a dramatic and sentimental touch in the Republican state convention when James E. Watson stood forth, threw back his mane, loosed his magnificent voice and thrilled the big crowd with the old-time fiery oratory that has made him famous. The situation was a climax at the close of a remarkable struggle for recognition on the part of Watson, the man who lost out for the governorship in 1908. When Watson ran a very close second for United States senator in last month's primary his forces claimed a "dog fall." Then came the unexpected vacancy and the short-term senatorship. The Watson men put in a vigorous claim for the second nomination. Watson's primary campaign had thrilled the state at large, where his vote proved to be strong at the primary. It soon developed that the delegates over the state were more than ready to put Watson on the republican ticket for the short term senatorship. So it was that when Watson rose to accept a new honor at his party's hands the delegates rose also, and with one voice made known their affectionate regard for a magnetic personality, their hearty admiration for a picturesque figure.

Watson's speech to the delegates was keyed in the ultra Watsonesque style, and it was a treat for the delegates, who cheered at every telling phrase, especially expressing their delight when the Rushville orator described in original sarcasm his idea of democratic policies. Watson's final "comeback" victory was largely due to his vigorous oratory and the republican party's demand for the campaigning powers that Watson possesses in unusual measure.

STUDENTS ATTEND COLLEGE AT THE BATTLE FRONT.

(By United Press.)

Udine, Italy, April 12.—American university students who complete their academic courses by delivering papers, waiting table, etc., are gone one better by the medical students of the Italian universities at the front here today.

Although mobilized and actually fighting at the front, medical students of the fifth and sixth years have installed at General Headquarters here a medical school where they complete their studies between battles and graduates on schedule time. The school is called Castresene university.

This novel undertaking is possible because in all Italian schools and universities the curriculum is uniform.

The government sent the material and professors. The building is equipped with lecture rooms, clinics, operating rooms, laboratories, hospital and every detail of the modern medical school.

The students prepare their lessons in the trenches of wherever they happen to be and attend lectures and clinics as often as their military duties will permit. All who may not be killed in the meantime expect to graduate on schedule time.

MANSFIELD ABLE
TO WRITE A BOOKSon-in-Law of John K. Gowdy. Has Many Experiences as German and Austrian Charge.

U. S. CONSUL AT VANCOUVER

The following from the Vancouver, (B. C.) Daily News-Advertiser concerns Robert E. Mansfield, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Gowdy of this city:

When the war ends, Mr. Robert E. Mansfield, United States Consul at this port, with charge of Germans and Austrian interests here, will be able to write a book on his experiences with the races under his care. In the mean time, he proves his fitness for a delicate position by diplomatic reticence that can almost be felt. There is no office in Vancouver from which the public hears less than the United States consulate. Yet if Mr. Mansfield were in a position to talk for the publication about his interviews with the Teutonic wards of his nation, the story would be worth printing. He can write a good book, too. Mr. Mansfield was consul in Chile. A few years after he went to the next post he wrote the best descriptive account of that country and its people that I have seen. It is not the sort of book which an official would write if he meant to stay in Chile, supposing the Chileans to be as sensitive to criticism as the rest of us. On the whole it is a favorable record. But it is an intimate story, disclosing the political, social, financial and moral weaknesses of the republic, as well as its remarkable development, and those strong qualities in the population which have placed Chile well to the front among South American republics. If one wishes to know how people live and work, play and pray flourish and die in this ambitious state let him get Mr. Mansfield's "Progressive Chile." He will be anxious to visit Chile, and perhaps may be tempted by business opportunities. He will wish to see Terra del Fuego, and will think much better of that region than before he read about it. But the reader will not wish to be a Chilean.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY
Columbus, Ohio, April 12.—A sparrow on the Ohio state university campus here has been abiding with a family of guinea pigs since two years ago last fall when he hopped in at an open window of the Veterinary laboratory. The present generation of piggies are great-grand-children of the original nestful. He swoops down on the litter of pigs with a screech and scatters them by the flutter of his wings. He is the pet of Oscar Metee, keeper of the livestock used for dissection.

Danger ahead!

Go now to a mirror and examine your mouth? Do your gums look "rinsed out," shrunken? Do you see a jagged appearance in the gum-line?

If so, see your dentist. He will tell you that you have pyorrhea, and that to save your teeth you will have to fight this dread disease at once.

From pyorrhea come by far the greater part of all tooth troubles. Unless treated and checked, it will result not only in the shrinking and malformation of your gums and of the bony structure into which your teeth are set, but in the loss of the teeth themselves.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco of your druggist today, or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Sentel Remedies Company 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

GOVERNORS HAVE A WEIGHTY TOPIC

Federal Reserve Bank Managers Will Decide Whether Citizen Must Pay a Fee.

HAVE F. R. B. CHECKS CASHED

Washington, April 12.—Attorney General Gregory will say today whether Mr. American Citizen must pay to have his Federal Reserve Bank checks cashed at Federal Reserve banks. Maybe Mr. Gregory will say the banks must cash them without charge at present, they pay.

That's one of the questions the Federal Reserve Bank Governors met here today to discuss. They came from all parts of the United States. They hope to make plans today for a standardized clearing house system for all the member banks.

The matter of charging exchange for cashing checks has been much muddled, each bank making its own exchange rate. The exchange is to be standardized or stopped altogether. There has been a good deal of wrangling about it between the banks.

The governors present are: Alfred L. Aiken, Boston; Benjamin Strong, Jr., New York; Charles J. Roads, Philadelphia; E. R. Faneher, Cleveland; George J. Seavy, Richmond; Joseph A. McCord, Atlanta; James B. McDougall, Chicago; Rolla Wells, St. Louis; Theodore Wold, Minneapolis; J. Z. Miller, Jr., Kansas City; and R. L. VanZandt, Dallas. Governor Archibald Kains of the San Francisco bank is in South America with the International High commission.

SENDS NOTICE ON SCHOOL SUPPLIES

State Examiner Gilbert H. Hendren Writes Letter Reminding Trustees of Rules.

REQUIREMENTS POINTED OUT

Copies of Every Notice Send to Bidders Must Also be Sent to State Board.

State Examiner Gilbert H. Hendren of the state board of accounts has sent a letter to all township trustees and all other school officials throughout the state, explaining certain phases of the requirements now in effect concerning the advertising for bids on school and township supplies by the trustees and advisory boards.

The letter accentuates the fact that copies of every notice to bidders that a trustee prepares, must be sent to the state board of accounts as soon as it is prepared. The letter follows:

"The advisory board in your township is required by law to meet on the first Tuesday in June (June 5), for the purpose of making a road levy.

"You should, during the month of April or May, proceed to give notice that you will receive bids for school and road supplies on that date. If the contemplated expenditures in any one class do not exceed $500, it is sufficient to give notice by posting for three weeks in five of the most public places in the township and also at or near the door of each postoffice therein. If the contemplated expenditures in any one class exceed $500, you should post notices as aforesaid and also advertise for bids in two leading newspapers published in the county, representing the two political parties casting the highest number of votes in the county at the last preceding election. You should also send a copy of any notice to bidders to this office (the state board of accounts.)

"This will require only one meeting of the advisory board, and by having the meetings on the same day throughout the state, you may, in a measure, prevent unscrupulous dealers from attending many lettings on different dates. It will also give dealers ample time to fill contracts before supplies are needed in September."

DISCUSS POOR PAY AT CONFERENCE

Pennsylvania Teachers Bewail Their Fate at Opening of "Schoolmen's Week" Today.

OFFICIAL ACTION LIKELY

(By United Press.)

Philadelphia, April 12.—The meagre pay of school teachers will be discussed by educators from different parts of the country at the opening of the University of Pennsylvania's "School's Week" here today.

The meeting may take official action, pointing out the importance of having high-grade teachers for the nation's embryo citizens.

Particular attention will be given plans for the development of the "continuation classes" system in grade, country and high schools.

The "continuation classes," such as are now established in the schools here, are like college "post-graduate" course. They permit grade students to start their life work while continuing certain studies on part time. Dr. Lotus D. Coffman of Minnesota is to be one of the speakers.

terior of the Hester home at Madison and Willard street where Hester received the wounds which caused his death in the Home hospital on the evening of November 21, 1915.

Arter, Mr. Cromer said, was one of the two roomers at the Hester home. He went home to the evening meal, according to the statement, in a sullen mood. He sat down at the table and spoke to Mr. Hester.

"There isn't a damned thing to eat," Arter is said to have remarked.

Hester had arisen from the table and gone to another room to get his coat and hat. He was about to go to a Christian Endeavor meeting at the A. M. E. church.

"Don't swear that way, Jesse," said Mr. Hester to Arter.

Arter angered, then replied, "There isn't a damned thing to eat on the table."

With that Arter is alleged to have pushed back his chair and reached into his right trouser's pocket for his knife. He opened it and started toward Hester. Another boarder in the house stepped in his way and attempted to reason with him.

"Don't do that Jess," the boarder said, trying to hold Arter back. "You're in another man's house."

Furious, Arter turned on the boarder and slashed at him with the knife, equipped with a blade three inches long, and cut a hole in the boarder's coat lapel.

"Get out of my way," Arter is said to have yelled, "or I'll kill you."

Hester, the attorney said, was just turning around when Arter jumped at him with the knife. Arter slashed Hester across the face a number of times. Hester backed away and picked up a chair, holding it in front of his face. Arter then grabbed the chair away and clinched, rolling over and over on the floor, Arter cutting furiously, slashing Hester's head, neck, arms and back. Mrs. Hester pleaded with him to let her husband up, ran to the telephone and, finally, across the street to Benadum's drug store.

When neighbors rushed into the Hester home they found Arter still cutting at Hester's neck and shoulders, slashing his antagonist's clothes to ribbons. Hester still was trying to protect himself.

When officers arrived Arter had closed his bloody knife and had put it in his pocket.

"See," he said to the officers, "I haven't any knife."

Arter was taken to the police station and Hester to the Home hospital. The dying man, asked to tell of the fight, said just before he passed into unconsciousness:

"I told Jess not to swear in the house—"

Hester died a few minutes after arriving at the Home hospital.

Dressed in black and sobbing frequently as the story of the murder was told, Mrs. Hester was the first witness for the state. She told the story of the murder, of Arter's boast that he had "killed two men" and of his sullen anger on the night of the murder. She was expected to be one of the state's strongest witnesses.

Ladies Aid Society of the St. Mary's Catholic church, with Mrs. Joe Buschmohle at Ninth and Arthur streets, assisted by Mrs. Ed Bishop.

Mitchell's orchestra of this city will furnish music for the dance to be given by the Knights of Pythias in their hall tomorrow evening.

All who are expected to contribute to the M. E. church penny supper and bazaar Friday night are urged to take their articles to Mrs. John P. Frazee's home tomorrow.

The Loyal Women's Bible class of the Christian church will have the regular monthly business meeting this evening in the church parlors at 7:30 p. m. Especially important business is to be brought up and a large attendance is desired to participate in the meeting.

Mrs. T. A. Jones of east of the city entertained about thirty members of the Pleasant Ridge Aid society this afternoon. After a lively business discussion, the ladies enjoyed a social time together over their needlework and the dainty luncheon served by the hostess.

The meeting of the Home Economics Club this week will be held on Friday afternoon instead of Saturday and will be in the form of a demonstration at the Weeks Fresh Meat & Provision company. All members are requested to meet in the main corridor of the court house promptly at 2 p. m.

FOR MISS DICKMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dickman are entertaining this evening for their daughter, little Miss Exine, with a birthday party. She is ten years old. The decorations will be in yellow and white. The individual candles will be in yellow and white, and the ices in yellow and white. The guests will include Rosalyn Reed, Kathryn Watson, Kathryn Haydon, Florence Lambert, Leona Cross, Vitula Ham-brook, Lucile Loyd, Lewis Sefton, Inez Reynolds, Ruth Johnson, Helen Greeley, John Johnson, Jean Herkless, Dicie Bales and the teacher of the guest of honor, Miss Marjorie Smith.

The Rebeccas will meet in regular session in their lodge room in the Odd Fellows building Friday evening where the degree work will be conferred on a number of candidates. A full attendance is desired as business of importance will be discussed. There will be a pie social after the work and every lady is requested to take a pie.

SPRING FESTIVAL

Fortune-telling, home-made candy parcel-post packages, an auction sale are all promised at the spring festival to be given by the Red Men, assisted by the Pocahontas, in the Red Men hall tomorrow evening. The extensive and novel preparations being made insure a jolly evening for the members of these orders and their friends who attend.

ELKS SUPPER.

An informal supper party was enjoyed at the Elks hall last evening when several families participated in a pitch-in supper. A merry time, indeed, was enjoyed around the tables where the bountiful supper was spread. In this company were Mr. and Mrs. Harrie Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Rich Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frazee, Mr. and Mrs. John Kiplinger, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Will Bliss, Dr. and Mrs. Lowell M. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Tompkins.

INSTALLATION.

Following the installation of officers of the Elks lodge this evening, the incoming officers will be hosts for the supper to be served to the entire membership. A royal good time is anticipated with the following men entertaining: Walter Easley, exalted ruler; Rich Reed, leading knight; Charles Green, lecturing knight; Clarence Cross, secretary; Theodore Heeb, treasurer; Perry O'Neal, tyler; Carl Gunning, esteemed leading knight; George Todd, esquire; Will Frazee, Claude Cambern, and Theodore Reed trustees.

At the meeting of the Home Missionary society of the St. Paul's M. E. church to be held tomorrow, the members of the Foreign Missionary society and Ladies Aid are asked to attend as well as the regular members. Mrs. Owen Carr will be hostess for the meeting, instead of Mrs. Sam Innis as the program announces.

Among the guests will be Mrs. C. E. Bacon, wife of the district superintendent of Connersville, Mrs. M. E. Michener, of Connersville vice-president of Connersville district, and Mrs. Madison Swadener, of Indianapolis, former conference president.

INTEREST IN BAZAAR

Great interest is being manifested in the preparations for the bazaar to be given by the members of the Immaculata Sodality, judging from the attendances at the sewing parties given in each of the three divisions on Tuesday evenings preceding Easter. Last night, hostesses were; Miss Marjorie Geraghty for the members of the first division; the Misses Kathryn and Nellie Keating for the second division; and Miss Susie Rettig for the third division. Sewing and conversation were the diversions at each of these affairs and incidentally several lovely hand made articles were completed.

METHODIST AID SOCIETY.

The three spacious adjoining rooms in the Aldridge home furnished the setting for a busy and pleasant afternoon yesterday when they were filled with the members of the Ladies Aid society of the St. Paul's M. E. church at their regular semi-monthly meeting. A busy business session included the discussion of plans for the bazaar and penny supper to be given Friday afternoon and evening. Mrs. James E. Watson presided over the meetings, followed by a social hour during which lovely music was furnished by Miss Leona Thomas, violinist.

A tempting course of pineapple salad, wafers and coffee was served as the afternoon drew near a close. Mrs. Sarah Henley and Mrs. Maud Shields of Chicago were among the guests, who numbered perhaps seventy-five.

CLEVER PARTY.

Several of America's most noted families were represented today at the party given for the Ladies Aid society of the Christian church. By a cleverly laid plan, each of the 65 guests, upon entering the basement of the church, which had prettily transformed into a dining room, was given the name of a member of some prominent American family and found her place at the table, marked accordingly. Tables were arranged for Woodrow Wilson, Thomas Taggart, Theodore Roosevelt, Roger Bean, the Wiggs family, the famous Jones family, characters from Uncle Tom's Cabin, and even the Old Woman in the shoe with her children. Each of the tables seating four, had as a center decoration a slender vase containing daffodils and surrounded with greenery. The napkins and refreshments also carried out this refreshing color scheme with yellow and white cake, mints, coffee and tiny fluffy chickens given as favors.

Following this, the head of each family was asked to give a history of the family that they represented. Some very amusing and witty talks were made. The Rev. C. M. Yocum, as Roger Bean was especially popular. A short business session in the parlors of the church was the prelude to this social hour for which piano music was played by the Misses Wanda Wyatt, Helen Thomas, and Helen Matlock, Mrs. Dora Hilligoss, Mrs. Walter Conaway, Mrs. George Thomas, Mrs. R. S. Davis and Mrs. Dan Matlock, the first three named being the retiring board of management.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY

Southampton, Eng. Apr. 12.—Accused of treating his wife to a glass of wine in a Southampton "pub" (saloon), Robert Andrew Smith explained as follows:
Mrs. Smith handed her husband six pence to pay for her own drink. Instead of passing that particular coin to the barmaid, Smith tendered a half crown (about 60 cents) in payment for his own and his wife's drinks and received change for it. He was fined 1 pound (about $5.) Mrs. Smith was fined a second pound. Dorothy Brown, the barmaid, was fined 5 pounds. That's the way they enforce the "no treating" regulation in England.

CURT GOSNELL GOES TO MUNCIE

Former Rushville Trainer Opens Work With a Very Promising String

SINGLE G. IS HEADLINER

He is Entered in Only One Race Thus Far—Wilbur S. Also Believed a Comer

Muncie, Indiana, April 12.—When Curt Gosnell, formerly of Cambridge City, decided to transfer his spring training quarters to Muncie, the whole light-harness world pricked up its ears to the importance of the Muncie track for training purposes. For years it has been known as one of the best plants in the Middle West but never had been taken seriously by the larger trainers until Gosnell with his bay stud, Single G. and the little bay pacer Wilbur S. who looks equally as good same here.

Gosnell is at the Muncie track now in all the glory of his seventeen head of fast steppers. He has a whole battery of assistants—and there are others, trainers coming on later. Gosnell is sparing no pains, money or energy in putting his string into first class condition.

Over the snow-covered cinders of the fair grounds he has jogged his steppers out for two or three months, but Gosnell, the veteran horseman, who received the deserved praise all along the Grand Circuit last season, has carried on his work very quietly—so quietly in fact that those not in direct touch with the horseworld have not known that he was here except in a general way. Yet, quartered at the local track, are horses who, next late-summer and early-fall may set the big tracks afire with their speed and who may send records on the blink.

And Gosnell is immensely satisfied with the local track.

"It is one of the best half mile tracks in the country," said Gosnell. "The new buildings and equipment generally are very good. When the new barn is completed—I refer to the big thirty-stall new building that the fair association is erecting—the local grounds, for training purposes is going to be hard to beat."

And Gosnell even hinted that the local track might be the permanent winter quarters of the greater string of pacers and trotters which he has gathered under his protecting wing.

Gosnell's string of horses is one of the best ever gathered together in Indiana. Single G. 2:02½, by Anderson Wilke, 2:21½; dam, Little Gyp by Shoely Gyp, heads the list. But Gosnell asserts that there are others in his string besides Single G. He intimated that he expects a great deal of Wilbur S. half brother of Single G.—a horse with a record of 2:08½ and all kind of possibilities. Among the other notables of the Gosnell string is the mare, Hazel Armstrong, 2:07½.

Of the string Single G. is by far the most popular although Gosnell says that his Wilbur S. may come up and be just as good. The little bay pacer horse who last year startled the Grand Circuit with his sensational pacing feats, appears in excellent condition. Horsemen who have seen the game little son of Anderson Wilkes assert he is solid as a rock and hasn't an ounce of fat on him. Although the stud has not been worked out for a time Gosnell is confident he will better his mark made at Lexington last fall.

"If Single G. goes no faster than last year I'll miss my guess," said a writer in the Horse Review recently.

The pacer is being jogged daily, according to Gosnell and will be worked out on the track as soon as the runway is in condition.

Single G. is entered in only one race so far—the $3,000 free-for-all pace at Kalamazoo. He probably will be entered in the big racing stakes all along the Grand Circuit.

Gosnell is enthusiastic over the prospects of his Wilbur S.

"He is a half-brother of Single G. and has shown 2:06½," said Gosnell. "He is game to the core. I am expecting big things of him this year."

The horse is a little bay, almost identical with Single G. and, if anything prettier, which is saying a whole lot, by the way.

Hazel Armstrong, is another princely little mare of the Gosnell stables. She has gone 2:07½ and could do a whole lot better if put to the test, it is said. She probably will be entered in the Grand Circuit.

Gosnell has taken a new one into the fold—the big bay pacer Dan H. 2:10½, owned by Jake Hensley of Yorktown, and a horse which has been a familiar figure to those who attend the fairs in northeastern Indiana each year. Don H. formerly was trained by Dan Ruth of Yorktown. He is a big horse with a good steady stride, and easily handled. Under the tutelage of Gosnell he promises to develop into a fast one.

Billy Milton, 2:23½, a pacer owned by Billy Caldwell is another acquisition to the Gosnell stables. The horse is a good one and ought to make good.

Cochato Joy, 2:16, by Cochato, three-year-old roan trotter, owned by J. M. Sadler of Muncie is one of the young horses under Gosnell's wing. The big roan son of Cochato made a most favorable impression when he went a mile in 2:16 in the Indiana State fair meet at Indianapolis last fall. He has a world of speed and size which stands him in good stead. He may be a sensation as a three-year old.

Gosnell probably will break his stable up into two parts—the big one, with Single G. in the lead, to campaign through the Grand Circuit, and the other and slower squad to make the county fairs.

Swift's Fertilizers Continue to Make Winners

If you used Swift's Fertilizer and obtained the best yield in the state you would, of course, give our fertilizer the credit that was due it. NOW, if the following year's Champion used Swift's and this performance repeated from year to year, you naturally would begin to think that Swift's Red Steer Brand is a pretty good fertilizer, would you not?

Look at the Record and Decide Yourself.

There can be no better proof of the value of a fertilizer than the records made by those who use it. There must be merit in a fertilizer that produces the results stated below:

Mr. Will Essig, Tipton, Indiana—131 bushels corn per acre.

The largest yield of which there is any record in Indiana. Mr. Essig was recently awarded a gold medal at the Panama Exposition. Used SWIFT'S.

Mr. Norris McHenry, Elizabethtown, Ind.—112 bushels per acre. Winner of the Indiana 1914 Men's Five Acre Corn Contest. Used SWIFT'S. In 1915 he was induced to use other than Swift's Fertilizer and got no prize.

Mr. F. R. McHenry, Norris' father—used no fertilizer in 1914 and won no prize, but as his son won the State Championship in 1914 with the aid of Swift's Fertilizer, Mr. McHenry used Swift's in 1915, got 87.3 bushels of ripe corn per acre and won the sweepstakes for men in the Bartholomew County Five Acre Corn Contest.

The 1st, 2d, 3d and 4th prizes for the highest yields of good quality corn in the 1915 Five Acre Corn Contest for men in Bartholomew County, Indiana, all went to users of Swift's Fertilizer. Also in the Boys' One Acre Corn Contest in the same county, the 1st, 2d, 3d and 4th prizes went to users of Swift's Fertilizer.

The Ohio 1914 Champion Corn Grower, Arnett Rose, Alger, Ohio—153.9 bushels—used SWIFT'S.

The Ohio 1915 Champion Corn Grower, Dewey Haines, Arcanum, Ohio—154 bushels—used SWIFT'S.

The Indiana 1914 Boy Champion Corn Grower, Roy Friedersdorf, Elizabethtown, Ind.—128.8 bu.—used SWIFT'S.

Gordon Reap, Elizabethtown, Indiana, who was third last year, is County Champion with 105.73 bushels. He also used SWIFT'S this year.

There certainly MUST be something in Swift's Fertilizers that PRODUCES RESULTS. Swift's blood, bone and tankage fertilizers make prize winners.

If YOU do not use Swift's Fertilizers, you are not sure that you are using the best fertilizer obtainable. You want the best—then buy SWIFT'S—the Red Steer Brand.

WILDS OF CHINA TO BE EXPLORED

American Explorer and Bride Start For Honeymoon in Jungles —After Big Game.

WILL BE IN FIELD ONE YEAR

Few Women Have Ever Undertaken a Journey so Extensive and Hazardous as This.

(By United Press.)
Yokohama, April 12.—Boy C. Andrews and his bride arrived here today from New York and San Francisco on the steamer Tenyo Maru, equipped and ready to start on their long honeymoon trip and tiger hunt through the remote wilds of Western China. Little Mrs. Andrews probably is the first white girl to go into such a land, on such a mission for her honeymoon.

Andrews is in charge of the American Museum of Natural History's Asiatic zoological expedition, and he and his bride are to bring back with them tigers, leopards, elephants, specimens of the rare "Snow Leopard" and "huge, Maltese Brown Man-Eating Tiger," together with many other wild beasts of the Chinese jungles and mountains.

Mrs. Andrews is the photographer of the expedition. She carries a new motion picture camera, invented by Carl Akeley, African explorer and elephant takers. She also will take color pictures of animals in the mountains of China.

"We will go right into the field of tiger hunting upon our arrival in China," said Mrs. Andrews, "and if we are fortunate we will send some fine specimens of man eating tiger to the Museum. If our hopes are fulfilled the members of our party will begin to look for big game about the second week in May. Our schedule calls for a year of actual work in the field."

At Peking the expedition will obtain letters to the viceroys of the different Provinces in China. Around Foochow, a large city on the coast between Shanghai and Hong Kong, the tiger hunting will begin, for it is in this region the tiger abounds.

"From Peking," said Andrews "we will sail down the coast to Fu-Chau, in Fu-Kien Province. Here Mr. Heller and Perry Caldwell, a missionary, will join us for a hunt through the Bohea Mountains, some 300 miles inland from the Strait of Formosa. There is big game in this region and we should obtain some valuable and new specimens."

"From Fu-Kien my wife, Heller

and I will go up the coast to the mouth of the great Yangtse River by steamer, which will take us up the Yangtse to Tung-ting Lake. Here we will follow another stream by floatboats as far as we can get toward Wei-Chau Province.

"This province is one of the wildest and the most difficult to enter in China. There are no roads and few inhabitants. The country is mountainous and rugged. This will be the main field for our work on this trip, though we probably will push on into the province of Yunnan, unless the revolution that has recently broken out there makes it too dangerous. We may even go into Tibet."

"All this country is semi-tropical; cold in the mountainous regions and warm in the valleys. This part of Central Asia probably formed the birthplace of the human race."

Few women have even undertaken a journey so extensive and hazardous as this. Mrs. Andrews has inherited an adventurous disposition.

She is the daughter of Major Henry Borup, U. S. A., and the sister of the young Arctic explorer, George Borup, who was drowned on Peary's North Pole expedition. Though Roy C. Andrews is still young, he has gained a reputation as a naturalist and has twice encircled the world. His companion, Edmund Heller, besides his trip with the Roosevelt African expedition, has been with one of Paul Rainey's expeditions and has just returned from the Yale Peruvian expedition.

"Animal life of Central Asia is of the greatest interest to the scientist," Andrews added. "Most of the larger animals of the North American continent have their ancestors there. The mountain sheep of the Rockies, the elk, the moose and the buffalo migrated northward through China and crossed Bering Strait in days when the strait was dry land."

SENT TO JAIL; FINDS BIG LEGACY

Publicity From Arrest on Charge of Fraud Lead to Discovery of Unknown Wealth.

NOW ON HIS WAY TO DENMARK

(By United Press.)
Warren, Pa., April 12.—Ten months ago Martin Nelson was so hard up that he didn't care how he got money. Shortly afterward he was convicted of obtaining it under false pretenses and was sent to jail for six months. The publicity caused by his arrest led to his discovery by friends who had good news for him.

Today Nelson was off for his old home in Denmark to claim a legacy of $6,000. Had he never been sent to jail probably he never would have heard of the legacy. So, at least, the Danish Consul declared. He said that he had been seeking Nelson for five years. The newspaper clipping telling of Nelson's arrest and imprisonment in the Warren County jail was the first trace he got of him.

Mothers! You can Save Money on Boys' Clothing

Mothers often buy their boys the lowest-priced suits they can find believing this to be the most economical way, but it is not actually the case

A garment cheaply or carelessly made gives out at some or all points so much sooner than the one thoroughly made that frequently two of the poorly made suits are worn out during the life of a good one.

Perhaps the good suit will cost more, but not twice as much. Therefore, in the course of a few months you have actually saved money on the better suit.

Of All Boys Clothing Xtragood Has the Better Making

A large choice of fabrics in single and double-breasted Norfolks. Some box-plaited; nifty patch pockets on others; belts one and three-piece and extra trousers if you desire.

XTRAGOOD is made on a plan of double reinforcement of all wear-points. The pockets are extra-staid, trousers are full-lined with the best of strong twill lining. Collars are hand-felled, and the front and shoulders tailored carefully so that they will not readily wrinkle or lose their shape. It not only gives longer wear service, but during the time of wear maintains the stylish appearance of a new garment.

This extraordinary care throughout the production of XTRAGOOD results in better style appearance and greater satisfaction during wearing-time than can be obtained from ordinary clothing.

ICE BLOCKS GREAT LAKE STEAMERS

Large Shipments of Grain and Ore Delayed Because of Blockade at Straits.

MAY NOT OPEN BEFORE MAY 1

(By United Press.)
Milwaukee, Wis., April 12.—"When will the ice go out of the straits?" was the big question today in every port on the Great Lakes. Riding at anchor in ports along the lakes are hundreds of steamers, loaded to the gunwales with ore, coal and grain waiting for word that "the Straits are open."

An early start means millions of dollars to the shipping men. Sometimes the Straits have opened as early as April 10; in other years not until May 1. Shipping men aren't going to waste any time getting started this year on account of the great demand for coal and grain.

The mining companies in Upper Michigan are anxious for coal—their winter supply being nearly exhausted—and they are offering big money to the vessel men who will bring the first cargoes into port.

"WAR IS HELL!"
Don't blame your wife if your buttons drop off. Good linen thread comes only from Belgium; and the war has cut off the supply.
Don't be surprised if your evening paper, once white, has a pale, straw-colored complexion. The blue dye used to tint yellow paper fibre is unobtainable—on account of the war.
Those matches you used to buy a dozen boxes for a nickel, have gone to 7 cents. A war shortage of chemicals is to blame.

UP-TO-NOW IN DESIGN

Designs as shown by some firms are more or less freakish or fadish to attract the attention of the prospective customers with scarcely a thought of their wearing appearance or correctness in proportion. But then they are merely on paper and represent but a small loss if they don't take.

We have faith in our ability as practical designers and as proof we show at our works a most complete selection of ready to erect monuments designed by our nationally recognized designer, Mr. A. H. Schrichte. J. B. SCHRICHTE SONS MONUMENTS 117-121 S. MAIN ST.

SETS NEW MARK FOR BUYS NOMINATION; HOMETALENT SHOWS

"The Smugglerman" to be Given by William Willett, Convicted For Jackson School Friday Night, Purchasing New York Judgeship, Set Free Today.

100 PUPILS IN THE CASTE HE WAS A MODEL PRISONER

(By United Press.)

New York, April 12.—The tall, iron doors of Great Meadow prison swung open at dawn today and out walked William Willett, the New York politician who went to the penitentiary on conviction of buying a New York State Supreme Court Judgeship nomination from Joe Cassidy, former political leader of the Borough of Queens.

Willett is out on parole. During the part of his sentence he served in Sing Sing Willett was the star model prisoner, once winning the Lewishon $20 prize for being the most ideal prisoner there.

Although of course he did not realize on his purchase of the Supreme Court Judgeship, Willett's judicial temperament did not go to waste in prison, because he was a member of Thomas Mott Osborne's Mutual Welfare League Supreme Court, at the bar of which he served "with honor and distinction." Cassidy, from whom Willett bought his nomination, was released on parole several weeks ago and is back in New York politics, more or less.

There are one hundred children in the caste of "The Smugglerman," the operetta which will be given by Jackson school at the Graham Annex auditorium Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. The entertainment promises to be one of the best if not the best home talent show ever seen here. The costumes are very beautiful and appropriate to the theme of the play. The minuet, the Mother Goose scene and the splendid acting of the pupils are expected to be especially popular.

The price of admission—ten cents for children of the first grades and twenty cents for those above the eighth grade and adults—is conceded to be very low, considering the kind of a show it will be, but pupils of Jackson school wished everyone to have an opportunity to see it.

The proceeds will be used to purchase supplementary and reference books and such additions to the equipment for the betterment of the pupils as the school shall deem best.

CINCINNATI MAY ADOPT MONKEYS AND ELEPHANTS TODAY.

Cincinnati, April 12.—A special election here today will determine whether $300,000 in bonds shall be issued to purchase the zoo, making the collection of animals a municipal asset. If the bond issue is carried, a campaign will be launched to secure a $250,000 endowment to help maintain the zoo. Cincinnati already owns and operates a railroad, university and hospital.

GETS TIME TO THINK

(By United Press.)

Washington, Pa., April 12.—John Zak, a checker expert of this place is, and has been for the last six months, playing a contest by mail with a crack player of Pasadena, Cal. Each player makes a move, then mails the board back to his opponent. As it takes nine days for the mail to travel, the game is slow.

IMPROVEMENT RESOLUTION

A Resolution Ordering the Oiling of Certain Streets in the City of Rushville, Indiana.

Section 1.—Be it resolved by the Common Council of the City of Rushville, Indiana, that it is deemed necessary to oil in accordance with the profiles, details, drawings and specifications on file in the office of the City Clerk of said City of Rushville, Indiana, the following streets and parts of streets in the said City to-wit:

And such improvement is now ordered.

The cost of said improvement, including the cost of street and alley intersections shall be assessed upon the real estate abutting on each side of said streets respectively and upon the City of Rushville, Indiana, if the said City be benefited by said improvement, all according to the method and manner provided for in the act of the General Assembly, State of Indiana, entitled "An Act Concerning Municipal Corporations," approved March 6, 1905, and Acts Amending and Supplemental thereto.

Under no circumstances shall the City of Rushville, Indiana be or be held responsible for any sum or sums due from said property owners or owner from said work, or for the collection of the same, or for the payment of any bond, bonds, certificate or certificates issued to said contractor in payment for such work, except for such moneys as shall have been actually received by the City for assessments for such improvements, or such moneys as said City is by said act entitled to receive from said property owners, payments, and all proceedings had and work done in the making of said improvement, assessment of property, collection of assessment and payment therefor, shall be as provided for in the above entitled Act and Amendment thereto.

The common council of said city has fixed Friday, the 28th day of April, 1916, as a date upon which remonstrances may be filed or heard, by persons interested in or affected by said described public improvement, and on said day, at 7:30 o'clock p. m., said common council will meet at the council chamber in said City of Rushville, for the purpose of hearing and considering any remonstrances which may have been filed, or which may be presented, and will hear all persons interested, or whose property is affected, by said proposed improvements, and will decide whether the benefits that will accrue to the property, abutting and adjacent to the proposed improvements, and to said city, will be equal to or exceed the estimated cost of the proposed improvements, as estimated by the city civil engineer.

CARL L. GUNNING, City Clerk.

House Insurance For Business Men

This is the day of Insurance — Insurance against Death, Accident, Sickness, Fire and Decay transfers hazard into security. A few gallons of Sherwin Williams Paint if used according to directions insures your house for years against the hazard of wind, rain, sleet and decay. SHERWIN WILLIAMS PAINT is the old time insurance policy of 90 per cent of the world's greatest railroads and corporations. Specify and demand it because of the low eventual cost is their criterion of value and their cheapest insurance. Just two things to look for—the color and name of manufacturer, as you can't possibly see the absolute quality and service that is built in the can.

We do Contract Work. Let us figure with you.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys
if Bladder bothers you—Drink
lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

LEAGUE SEASON GETS UNDER WAY

General Organized Ball and His
Boys Pry Off the Lid Today
Playing First Games.

LOOK FOR PROFITABLE YEAR

Only Three Teams Remain Same as
Last Year and Pretty Races
Are Predicted.

WHERE THEY PLAY TODAY.

American League—St. Louis at Cleveland; Detroit at Chicago;
Washington at New York; Philadelphia at Boston.

National League—Chicago at Cincinnati; Pittsburgh at St. Louis;
New York at Philadelphia; Boston
at Brooklyn.

BY THE SPORT SEER.

(Written for United Press.)
New York, April 12.—Twenty-five thousand small boys slunk into the attic today and got the augur out of pa's tool chest. They spent most of the morning boring holes through the wood and concrete fences surrounding the eight biggest parks where that famous and well known sport, Baseball, will blossom again
this afternoon.

While this has nothing to do with the story, the fact remains that the small boys, together with some 200,- 000 he's and she's will be on hand when eight umpires clear eight husky throats and bark "Play Ball" in the American and National Leagues
this afternoon.

These 200,000, having passed the age of boring holes in fences, will pay to get in and thus start the change pouring into baseball coffers at the beginning today of what the magnates say will be a record breaking year.

Old Doe Prosperity, with a little peace dove serum, has inoculated the fans, the magnates say, and all are cured of the malady that has proved so costly for the last four years—Federalitis.

Sport writers, players and just plain fans united with the magnates in their prediction that 1916 baseball will not only drive war, Mexico and the justly famous petticoat fashions out of the newspapers and the public mind, but will stack up bank rolls that will repay old Mr. O.
B. for the wads of change lost in the conflict with the Feds.

The absence of the Federals as a third contender, and the spirit of friendship that now permeates organized baseball is a new factor.
New millions are backing the game.
The Chicago Cubs-Whales have the power of the mail order house, the restaurant trust in the middle west, the packing interests and the chewing gum trusts them.

And Charlie Weeghman, the controlling factor in this combination of national and federal league players, says he will spend much money if necessary. This same spirit, Weeghman says, is backing the ether teams, though none of the others could sit in a game of freezeout with Weeghman.

When the season opened today only three teams were practically the same as last year—the Chicago White Sox, the Washington Amerimans and the Phillies. The others which have recruited new players from the erstwhile Feds, didn't look the same. Benny Kauff, star Fed infielder, was romping around today in a Giants' uniform. Joe Tinker, Moderecai Brown and a score of others, once famous in the big leagues before they flocked to the Feds, were back in O. B. uniforms again.

Along with the Cock Robins, blushing violets, cold-in-the-head, poets and other signs of spring, the baseball prophet awoke from a long, long sleep today. They admitted, however, that even though they were prophets they couldn't guess which of the sixteen teams that started the season today, would get the big type in the flash extras October.

The Red Sox, who got all the grapes last year, were playing today on their own grounds, with a pennant flapping in the Cape Cod breeze.

Whether the rag would hang there this time next year was as much of a puzzle as whether the National league pennant would flutter sleepily over Pat-Moran's camp down in slumbering Philadelphia.

What the former Feds, an unknown quantity, will do has upset all the dope. For instance, it has been so long since Benny Kauff had to face Grover Alexander that nobody knows whether Grover's benders will be pie of puzzles to Bennie.

If Fielder Jones, miracle man, does what he says he will, the St.
Louis Browns, used as doormats for other teams since Hector was a pup, will be at the top of the American League ladder when the nuts are ripe. Fielder will be pitting his wits against Big Ed Walsh and other players Jones developed back in the days when a nickel was worth five cents.

As the season started today this was the way the big league towns figured it out:

New York—"Nothing to it. Will play the world series in New York next fall, the Giants vs. the Yanks."

Chicago—"It will be the White Sox and the Cubs again as it was in 1906."

Philadelphia—"Ho hum. We've played lots of world series here and we can stand another one."

Boston—"Order another plate of beans for the champions. We don't know which it will be but it will be one of them sure."

St. Louis—"Form reversed this year. We've got it now."

Cleveland—"Feeble but still in the race" "New blood this year. We ain't bragging, but watch us."

Pittsburgh—"Watch our smoke."

Brooklyn—"Over the bridge this year."

Cincinnati—"Best club we've ever had."

Detroit—"Ty Cobb, Sam Crawford, Veach. That's all."

Washington—"We'll show Mrs.
Wilson something."

You pays your money and you takes your choice.

vention in Indianapolis.

BIG FIGHT TO COME FRIDAY

Effort Will be Made to Defeat Amelia Keller For President—
Two Factions.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 12.—The fifth annual state convention of the Woman's Franchise League of Indiana opened a three day session here today with headquarters at the Hotel Claypool.

Mrs. Ovid Butler Johnson, vice-chairman in the absence of Miss Eleanor P. Barker, General Chairman, will be in charge of the meeting.

A banquet on Thursday evening will be the main social affair of the convention.

The big fight of the convention will come Friday with the election of president, when a strenuous effort will be made by the faction opposed to President Amelia Keller to defeat her and elect Mrs. Margaret J.
Gill of Muncie. The controlling factor in this will be a ruling on whether 400 members of the league will have organized the Congressional Vote of Indiana, shall be allowed to vote. If they vote they will vote for Mrs. Keller, it is said.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy — If You Know Dr.
Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a billious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle.

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective.

They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per

Susie Brown, Defendant in Gold
Fish "Farm" Case, Placed on Stand After Court Ruling

ARGUMENT FOR FIVE HOURS

Judge Springer Rules Favorably on Motion to Find Separately
For Miss Brown

The Trackwell-Irvin suit took a sudden turn today, when at the conclusion of the defendant's evidence motions were filed asking the court to find for all of the defendants separately. The argument on these motions required almost five hours and the court was cited much law on the question by all the attorneys.

The question as to the responsibility of Susie Brown and her right to be made a defendant to the accounting had gradually come to the front in the past two days of the trial and that the motion should center on her caused no surprise. Judge Springer found for Miss Brown, but the motion as to Mrs. Irvin and Chester Heck was overruled.

Miss Brown was the bookkeeper of the firm of Shoup and Heck and was the recognized agent of Mrs. Shoup following the death of Mr. Shoup. The defense maintained that she was not a party to the issues in the case because she did not have a fund in trust and merely acted as the agent for Mrs. Shoup. A special finding of law and facts with the verdict for Miss Brown.

By finding for Miss Brown a way was opened for the placing of Mrs. Brown on the witness stand, which was expected to help the defendants. Under the law a defendant in this kind of an action is not a competent witness and therefore Miss Brown could not testify before the court made his ruling as to her. She was placed on the stand immediately after the court made his decision.

It was expected that Judge Springer would keep the attorneys in court this evening until the case was completed. The argument will be postponed for a few weeks. He has business needing his attention in Connersville and was determined that the case should end today as far as the introduction of evidence was concerned.

While the argument in the Trackwell suit was going on, Judge Blair of Shelbyville impaneled a jury in the case of Harry Hudson against the estate of the late Jared Binford. Judge Blair was selected special judge after it was found that he had declared a two days' recess in the Shelby circuit court. The Trackwell case took so many attorneys from Shelbyville that Judge Blair found it next to impossible to hold court.

The case is a claim against the estate in which $7,000 is demanded. The action is brought against Ella Melvaine, the administratrix. The suit is of especial interest to the Carthage community and a large crowd of people from that section of the county was in attendance at the start of the trial.

Little difficulty was had in securing a jury which is composed of the following: James K. Posey, Fred Woods, Luther Gwynn, Thomas Mills, Corydon Kiser, Jesse Logan, Elwood Kirkwood, William J. Brown, Charles Z. Mohler, John A. Campbell, Carey O. Patton, Charles H. Foust.

In the case of the Rush County National bank against the estate of the late Dr. J. G. Lewis, on a note demanding $309, the court found for the plaintiff and awarded judgment for $353.22, including attorney fees.

SUCCEEDS RICHMOND MAN

The Rev. D. Ira Lambert, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was elected moderator of the Whitewater Presbytery at the semi-annual meeting which closed in Newcastle last night. Dr. Lambert succeeds the Rev. Elmer E. Davis, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Richmond.

The meeting was attended by seventy-five delegates from twenty counties in the district. The Rev. T. F. Campbell of Rising Sun was named as ministerial delegate and E. C. Green of Newcastle as the lay delegate to the General Assembly, the law making body of the church.

At the business session yesterday reports were heard from all of the standing committees and the progress of the church during the last year was shown. The Rev. John T. Steele of the First church, Indianapolis, delivered a temperance sermon yesterday afternoon.

INQUIRE ABOUT LAW VIOLATION

Authorities Write Here to Learn Names of Those Not Complying With State Statute

COMPENSATION LAW EVADED

Held to be Unfair For Contractors
Not to Obey it Because Building is Liable

Letters have been received by compensation insurance agents from the state authorities inquiring whether there are any employers of labor here violating the workmen's compensation law. Some agents have said that there are a number of employers in Rush county who have not complied with the law largely because they do not know that they are violating it.

Attention has been called to the fact that if a person engages a contractor to erect a house and that contractor has not protected the carpenters which he employs with compensation insurance, the person building the house would be liable in case of accident.

For that reason, it is held by many to be unfair to persons letting contracts for contractors not to comply with the law when they are endangering the interest of those with whom they have contracted.

Of course, it is pointed out, there are exceptions. A contract may be let to a joint-contracting firm which does not employ labor in constructing a building. But when the contractor employing labor has no insurance, the liability must be assumed by the party employing the contract and the liability, in case of an accident, becomes a lien on the property.

The general intent of the law is that liability attaches to anyone employing labor of any kind whether or not he is a regular contractor. Farmers are the exception of the law, that is only in the case of a farm laborer. It is shown that if a farmer should employ carpenters to build a house on his farm without letting a contract to one man, he would be liable and should have compensation insurance.

Other instances have been cited of evading the law. The statute makes provision for rejection of the operations of it. But in case a man rejects it as to his business and then engages in a side line, he is evading the law if he does not take out compensation insurance or reject it as to that particular work.

It is also pointed out that persons engaging in a new line of business since the law took effect should comply with it at once because they would be evading it in the same sense as those who did not comply when the law became effective.

NOT DESERTION; SHE CHASED ME AWAY, SAYS TIM

"You are charged in an affidavit filed here with wife desertion," said Judge Sparks this morning to Tim McGraw.

"Beggara, yer honor and she chased me away," replied McGraw in a rich Irish brogue.

Judge Sparks told him he did not desire to go into the merits of the case and took McGraw's answer to mean a plea of not guilty. His bond was placed at $500 and Tim was allowed to go on his own recognizance. The affidavit against McGraw was filed by his wife, Bridget McGraw.

Mrs. Will Gowdy is critically ill at her home near Arlington.

Testimony of Rushville Woman
Widow of Murdered Man, Plays
Part in Muncie Trial

MRS. ROBT. HESTER ON STAND

Harrowing Details of Killing of Her Husband by Boarder in Her Home Are Described

The trial of Jesse L. Arter, charged with killing Robert Hester, colored, now in progress at Muncie is attracting considerable attention in Rushville because Hester, the murdered man married a Rushville woman—a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Richardson. A number of local colored people are in Muncie for the trial.

Mrs. Hester, the widow of the murdered man, was on the witness stand yesterday and many attorneys in Muncie are of the opinion that her testimony will send Arter to the electric chair. She told all of the details of the murder. The following is from the Muncie Press regarding the case:

Harrowing details of the murder of Robert Hester, colored, 51, at the hands of Jesse L. Arter, 33, also colored, were told by the widow of the murdered man when she was placed on the witness stand in behalf of the state in the circuit court room Tuesday.

Sobbing, she told how Hester had been stabbed and slashed by Arter in her home at 501 East Willard street, November 21 last. She told too, how Arter had come to the Hester home in a sullen mood on the evening of the tragedy and how he had become infuriated by Hester's admonition that he (Arter) "stop swearing."

"He bragged about having killed two other men," she said, and Arter flinched.

Cross-examined by Walter Gray, for the defendant, Mrs. Hester stuck closely to her story and could not be swerved.

The Tennessee Federation of Miners has come to Arter's aid. A subscription, said to amount to more than $200 was received here from this federation Tuesday. Arter immediately engaged Attorneys Thomas V. Miller and Clarence Benadum to aid the attorney for the poor, Walter Gray, in the defense.

Because they asserted, they have already paid out $400 to Walter Gray, attorney for the poor, the county council Monday afternoon refused to appropriate $400 asked for by the defendant to aid in his fight for life.

Attorneys who heard the testimony of Mrs. Hester asserted it might send Arter to the electric chair. An attorney for the defense it is said, admitted the evidence would be heard to overcome.

Under the stinging lash of the opening argument for the state, Arter fairly cowered. He leaned forward in his chair but rarely moved except to glance at the jury occasionally and then across at the widow of the man he is accused with having killed.

Mr. Cromer's opening statement to the jury occupied more than an hour. He told of the crime from start to finish. And he indicated that the state will try to send Arter to the electric chair, and that the state is in possession of evidence that will show, beyond a reasonable doubt, that Arter killed Hester with premeditated malice and forethought.

Details of the occurrences which lead up to the murder were told by Mr. Cromer. He described the in-

Nesbit paid his fine.

RICHARD H. DAVIS, NOTED AUTHOR, DIES

Famous War Correspondent And Short Story Writer Expires
at New York Home

JUST RETURNED FROM EUROPE

(By United Press.)
New York, April 12.—Richard Harding Davis, noted war correspondent and author, is dead.

Davis dropped dead from heart failure while talking over the telephone in his home at Mt. Kisco at 9:30 last night, it was learned today.

Davis was receiving a telegram over the phone when stricken. He died before medical aid could be summoned. The author was about his home throughout yesterday apparently feeling well although he had been in poor health for two weeks.

Davis was born in Philadelphia in 1864 and was 52 years old at the time of his death. Beginning as a newspaper reporter, he attracted attention by his magazine writing and some of his stories were considered models of English literature. A number of his works have been dramatized.

At the beginning of the war Davis went to Europe. He spent several weeks abroad writing for newspapers and magazines and only recently returned from another trip, this time to the allied front in southern Serbia. Recently he contributed a number of articles to magazines on the subject of national preparedness. His present wife was formerly Bessie McCoy, a musical comedy star whom he married after his first wife, the daughter of a prominent family, divorced him four years ago.

GERMANS ARE REPULSED

Attack Seems to Lack Power of Saturday Night Offensive

By ED. L. KEEN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, April 12.—With a heavy liquid fire attack against Caurette woods, the crown prince early today resumed the attempt to crush the northwestern defense of Verdun on the fifty-second day of the battle for the fortress. A narrow sector of the French front from a point northeast of Dead Man's hill is under attack. Severe fighting is still in progress but the German thrust apparently lacks the power of the Saturday night offensive. The French war office announced the repulse of all German attacks.

The state will receive a total of $24.12 for the inheritance tax from the estate of the late James H. Bell, according to the report of Inheritance Tax Commissioner Schrader. The estate totaled $14,412.

OVER A MILLION SPENT IN CHASE FOR PANCHO VILLA

Washington, April 12.—More than one million dollars has been spent thus far by the United States in its hunt for Panchito Villa.

The war department estimated today the monthly cost over and above ordinary running expenses has been $100,000 while $900,000 has been spent for auto trucks and gasoline tank cars.

(By United Press.)
Washington, April 12.—A cablegram from General Obregon to the Mexican embassy today said Villa, according to his report, has gone into the mountains wounded with less than 150 men.

The message from Queretaro said:

"The bandit Villa has lost all his followers during the recent battles forced on him by our troops, and it is confirmed that he was wounded in the battle of Cienegueta. General Luis Herrera informs me that Villa has gone into the mountains wounded and with less than 150 men. I have given orders for such necessary movements as will completely destroy the men who are taking care of him and which will cause his capture."

BATTLE REPORTED

(By United Press.)
El Paso, Texas, April 12.—A battle was reported today to have been fought between Jimenez and Parral but on account of the Carranzista censorship the forces engaged were not made known.

A Mexican central train ran into the fight, later returning to Jimenez whence the censored reports were sent to the border. It is not known here whether American forces engaged in the fighting.

PROTESTS FURTHER ABOUT THE SERVICE

Congressman Finly Gray Filed 1,000 Letters to Show Farmers Are Dissatisfied.

DON'T LIKE MOTOR ROUTES

Richmond, Ind., Apr. 12.—In filing a thousand letters of protest against the motorized rural route mail service in Wayne county, Representative Finly H. Gray submitted his own recommendations to the post office department that no route be longer than 35 miles. Mr. Gray is opposed to the motorized service, and recently supported the bill which provided for discontinuance of all motorized routes and for the putting of horse drawn vehicles back into the service.

The letters, Mr. Gray said, were written by farmers of this county who are served under the new system. The writers declare that it is impossible for the carriers to cover 50 mile routes effectively, point out the delay in receipt of mail and of mistakes made, and demand shorter routes.

Recently advocates of the fifty-mile rural routes, who include certain employees of the government, have been declaring that the service in this county is now as satisfactory as under the old system.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE.

Hartford City, Ind., April 11.—William McGriff, superintendent of the Blackford County infirmary was to be tried here today on a charge of embezzlement. The case has been delayed on account of the chief witness, Miss Blanche VanHorn, being in the hospital.

NEW REPUBLIC IN CHINA IS PROBABLE

Following Lead of Another, Important Maritime Province of Che-Kiang Secedes Today

POPULATION NEAR 100,000,000.

(By United Press.) Shanghai, April 12.—Formation of a new republic of southern China with a population of about 100,000,000 may be announced within a few weeks.

Following the lead of the province Kwang Tung, the important maritime province of Che-Kiang, on the Eastern sea, today seceded from the republic. Emissaries of the revolutionists have arrived in Canton, which probably will be the capital of the new republic, with word that Hunan Fuk-leu and Kwei Chow provinces are about to declare their independence. The movement is spreading to all the provinces south of Yang-Tse-Kiang river.

In an effort to save the republic from dissolution, President Yuan Shi Kai has summoned revolutionary leaders to meet him in conference at Peking. The southern rebels have not yet accepted this invitation.

PEACE IS BROUGHT NEARER

Germans See Hope in Asquith's Reply to Hollweg

(By United Press.) Berlin, April 12.—The end of the war has been brought appreciably nearer by significant developments of the last 48 hours.

Press reports of Premier Asquith's reply to Chancellor Hollweg's speech reached Berlin today. They created a mild sensation here. Disregarding certain belligerent well informed Germans interpreted Asquith's speech as indicating the time is drawing near when England will be willing to enter peace negotiations.

FIVE BUILDINGS BURNED

Fire Does $20,000 Damage to Monrovia Business District

(By United Press.) Mooresville, Ind., April 12.—Five frame business buildings in Monrovia near here were destroyed today by fire with a loss estimated at more than $20,000. The Masonic lodge room lost all records and equipment. The buildings destroyed were in the southwestern part of the business district.

RAW OYSTER IS TO BE LOOKED ON WITH SUSPICION—EXPERTS

(By Samuel G. Dixon, M. D., Li D. Pennsylvania Commissioner of Health.

The raw oyster today is to be looked upon with suspicion. Great care should be observed in purchasing them. The seller should be known to be reliable and he should know from what beds he gets his supply.

It is hard to explain why the oyster furnishes a fashionable dish when it has become the custom to supply the culls, which a few years ago would have been thrown back into their beds as being unfit for the market.

The food value of four or five of these culls is almost nil and the taste so insipid that they are flavored with strong condiments that entirely destroy what little natural flavor the culls had. It can hardly be said that these culls thrown out from the cookable oysters from various beds, are palatable. They are, however, dangerous, a they can and do sometimes carry the germs of typhoid fever.

Why, therefore, eat raw culls containing little or no nourishment with little or no taste and yet not infrequently carrying germs of disease?

In order to save nearly 100 miles in the line of communications Funston's staff today had prepared detailed plans for moving the American terminus to a point near Ojinaj opposite Presidio, Texas. Funston does not intend to move the line immediately.

$5,000,000 LOOT FOUND

(By United Press.) El Paso, Texas, April 12.—Five million dollars worth of loot taken by the late Villista general Thomas Urbina has been recovered by the Carranza military forces, according to official announcement by Consul Garcia here today.

The treasure was buried on the Las Nievas ranch in Durango. It comprised 23 boxes of gold coins, and jewelry, 20 bars of gold bullion, considerable silver bullion and loot from Mexican church, besides $800,000 in bank notes.

POISON ATTEMPT SEEN.

(By United Press.) El Paso, Texas, April 12.—Slight traces of cyanide were discovered in water along the southern route taken by the United States expedition in Mexico, according to unconfirmed reports here today. A deliberate poison plot is suspected. No illness to the American forces resulted as precautions were taken before the troops or horses were allowed to use the water.

PRICE OF PAPER IS FORCED UPWARD BY WAR

A commodity even so indirectly related to the demands of war as paper is showing the prevailing tendencies to such a degree as seriously to embarrass publishers. The higher price of paper stock and the difficulty of obtaining it at all in England was a chief factor in the discontinuance in March of the London daily Standard after a career of sixty years, for a considerable portion of which it was the most important organ of the middle classes in England. In America the demand for paper has been increasing for six months as a result of general business activity. At the same time, supplies used in its manufacture have been decreased by war conditions, and in some cases have almost been shut off. The supply of old rags is affected by the cutting off of the importations from the European peasantry and by the demand for the making of gun cotton. The chemicals used in bleaching the paper produced by sulphuric acid and alum are being deoured by the manufacturers of explosives, while importations of jute have fallen off until the price has doubled. Looking Forward.

There is a tendency on the part of some writers to belittle the importance of economic questions in the coming presidential campaign, and to emphasize the importance of foreign policies as a campaign issue. It is probably true that the foreign relations of this Government will be in the spotlight for many months to come, but unless the voters of this country are afflicted with economic astigmatism they will weigh carefully the questions of our future trade and industry before casting their ballot. Humanity is still in the bread and butter stage.

There are two factors of prime importance in the consideration of these very practical questions: First the plans now being perfected abroad for trade combinations; and, second, the fact that our greatest trade rival, Germany, will emerge from the European struggle industrially unscathed, and with an army of men clamoring for work at any wage.

England has jettisoned her free trade policy. During the middle of the 19th Century, when her mechanical inventions had made it possible to control any market which would give free access to her wares, it became highly important that she operate under a free trade policy, a condition precedent to inducing other countries to do likewise. The so-called school of Manchester, of which Cobden was the chief exponent, inaugurated a free trade propaganda which very nearly, but not quite convinced Germany that open ports spelled sound economics, and which quite thoroughly convinced a large number of people in this country that free trade was the proper thing.

That was during the period when the South was a purely agricultural section. The adherence of the South to this free trade conviction has lessened in an inverse ratio as the development of agricultural industries has progressed in Dixie. At that time the South sold a large share of her products to England, where they were made up and came back to us in the form of finished materials. It is true statement that in many cases the agricultural industries of the South were utilized by Great Britain to break down the manufacturing industries of the North. Whenever, for instance, an attempt was made to build up our cotton textile industries, England, with cotton goods manufactured from Southern raw material, would drive our cotton manufacturers into bankruptcy by dumping her goods on our market at prices ridiculously low. That is one of the reasons why the protective policy took firm root in the North. But England fears German competition after the war. She was experiencing it prior to the war. Today her return to the protective policy needs but the affirmative action of Parliament. The country is well-nigh unanimously agreed on protection.

Every student of trade who has returned from Germany during the past year declares that the cessation of war will find Germany stripped to the loins and ready for the biggest commercial campaign ever staged on this planet. And Austria is going to do teamwork with Germany. The two nations are perfecting trade combinations, and the Governments themselves will enter into active partnership in all industries. State socialism is the plan.

And little Japan is sawing wood. Her wage scale is one-twelfth that of this country, and her industries are being imperialized. The end of the war will find Japan the mistress of the Pacific while we are still growling about the seamen's act.

In the face of all these considerations, what reasonable voter will fail to give heed to future economic policies? What sensible men will cast his vote for a near-free-trade, vacillating, theorizing, impractical Democracy? We must ship men of affairs on our next voyage, and they will be found in the Republican party fighting for an adequate protective tariff.

HUNDRED LEADING HOOSIERS

Hugh McCulloch (1868-1895) (31)

Hugh McCulloch, one of America's leading financiers, and Secretary of the United States treasury under three presidents, was born in Maine in 1868. After studying law in Boston, he migrated to Fort Wayne and there began his practice in 1893. Turning his attention to banking he mastered the science of finance amid the changes of this rapidly developing frontier state. His services were everywhere in demand and in 1895 he became cashier and manager of the Ft. Wayne state bank. So successful was his management that when the new state bank was organized he was elected president, and under his direction it was cognized as the safest and best managed bank in the west. It went through the panic of 1897 without suspension and continued specie payment at the beginning of the war, after the government had suspended specie payment. When he resigned as president of the bank, 1893, it held $3,300,000 in gold and a capital of $3,000,000.

Hugh McCulloch (con) (31)

The success of Hugh McCulloch in managing the Indiana State bank gained for him national fame, and in 1863 President Lincoln appointed him comptroller of the treasury. It was he who put the new banking act into operation. The following year he succeeded Chase as secretary of the Treasury, provided the funds for conducting the war, and was continued in office during the entire term of President Johnson. Upon retiring he went to England, organized the London banking house of Jay Cooke, McCulloch and Company, which he directed for several years. In 1884 he was again appointed secretary of the treasury by President Arthur, and served until the end of his administration. He died at his home near Washington, D. C., on May 24, 1895.

Mrs. Zerelda G. Wallace 1817-1901.

Among Indiana's famous women, Mrs. Zerelda G. Wallace deserves mention. She was born in Kentucky in 1817, the daughter of Mr. Sanders, a prominent physician who settled in Indianapolis in 1830. At the age of nineteen she married the lieutenant-governor of the state, David Wallace, who was elected governor the following year. Although she possessed those graces and qualities that fitted her for social leadership, yet Mrs. Wallace found still greater pleasure in training the three young sons, born to the Governor by a former wife. She read their books, played their games and loved them as a mother. The sweet motherly character portrayed in that world famous novel, "Ben Hur," is none other than the author's step-mother. When the W. C. T. U. was organized in Indianapolis in 1874 Mrs. Wallace was elected its first president and served for seven years. Frances E. Willard called her the "Deborah of the Temperance Army." In later life she became the most popular woman lecturer in the west. She died on March 19, 1901.

Watson Reception A Dramatic Scene

(Indiana Daily Times.)

There was a dramatic and sentimental touch in the Republican state convention when James E. Watson stood forth, threw back his mane, loosed his magnificent voice and thrilled the big crowd with the old-time fiery oratory that has made him famous. The situation was a climax at the close of a remarkable struggle for recognition on the part of Watson, the man who lost out for the governorship in 1908. When Watson ran a very close second for United States senator in last month's primary his forces claimed a "dog fall." Then came the unexpected vacancy and the short-term senatorship. The Watson men put in a vigorous claim for the second nomination. Watson's primary campaign had thrilled the state at large, where his vote proved to be strong at the primary. It soon developed that the delegates over the state were more than ready to put Watson on the republican ticket for the short term senatorship. So it was that when Watson rose to accept a new honor at his party's hands the delegates rose also, and with one voice made known their affectionate regard for a magnetic personality, their hearty admiration for a picturesque figure.

Watson's speech to the delegates was keyed in the ultra Watsonesque style, and it was a treat for the delegates, who cheered at every telling phrase, especially expressing their delight when the Rushville orator described in original sarcasm his idea of democratic policies. Watson's final "comeback" victory was largely due to his vigorous oratory and the republican party's demand for the campaigning powers that Watson possesses in unusual measure.

STUDENTS ATTEND COLLEGE AT THE BATTLE FRONT.

(By United Press.)

Udine, Italy, April 12.—American university students who complete their academic courses by delivering papers, waiting table, etc., are gone one better by the medical students of the Italian universities at the front here today.

Although mobilized and actually fighting at the front, medical students of the fifth and sixth years have installed at General Headquarters here a medical school where they complete their studies between battles and graduates on schedule time. The school is called Castrense university.

This novel undertaking is possible because in all Italian schools and universities the curriculum is uniform.

The government sent the material and professors. The building is equipped with lecture rooms, clinics, operating rooms, laboratories, hospital and every detail of the modern medical school.

The students prepare their lessons in the trenches of wherever they happen to be and attend lectures and clinics as often as their military duties will permit. All who may not be killed in the meantime expect to graduate on schedule time.

MANSFIELD ABLE TO WRITE A BOOK

Son-in-Law of John K. Gowdy. Has Many Experiences as German and Austrian Charge.

U. S. CONSUL AT VANCOUVER

The following from the Vancouver, (B. C.) Daily News-Advertiser concerns Robert E. Mansfield, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Gowdy of this city:

When the war ends, Mr. Robert E. Mansfield, United States Consul at this port, with charge of Germans and Austrian interests here, will be able to write a book on his experiences with the races under his care. In the mean time, he proves his fitness for a delicate position by diplomatic reticence that can almost be felt. There is no office in Vancouver from which the public hears less than the United States consulate. Yet if Mr. Mansfield were in a position to talk for the publication about his interviews with the Teutonic wards of his nation, the story would be worth printing. He can write a good book, too. Mr. Mansfield was consul in Chile. A few years after he went to the next post he wrote the best descriptive account of that country and its people that I have seen. It is not the sort of book which an official would write if he meant to stay in Chile, supposing the Chileans to be as sensitive to criticism as the rest of us.

On the whole it is a favorable record. But it is an intimate story, disclosing the political, social, financial and moral weaknesses of the republic, as well as its remarkable development, and those strong qualities in the population which have placed Chile well to the front among South American republics. If one wishes to know how people live and work, play and pray flourish and die in this ambitious state let him get Mr. Mansfield's "Progressive Chile." He will be anxious to visit Chile, and perhaps may be tempted by business opportunities. He will wish to see Terra del Fuego, and will think much better of that region than before he read about it. But the reader will not wish to be a Chilean.

TODAY'S ODDDEST STORY

Columbus, Ohio, April 12.—A sparrow on the Ohio state university campus here has been abiding with a family of guinea pigs since two years ago last fall when he hopped in at an open window of the Veterinary laboratory. The present generation of piggies are great-grand-children of the original nestful. He swoops down on the litter of pigs with a screech and scatters them by the flutter of his wings. He is the pet of Oscar Metcfe, keeper of the livestock used for dissection.

Gums shrinking? Danger ahead!

Go now to a mirror and examine your mouth? Do your gums look "rinsed out," shrunken? Do you see a jagged appearance in the gum-line?

If so, see your dentist. He will tell you that you have pyorrhea, and that to save your teeth you will have to fight this dread disease at once.

From pyorrhea come by far the greater part of all tooth troubles. Unless treated and checked, it will result not only in the shrinking and malformation of your gums and of the bony structure into which your teeth are set, but in the loss of the teeth themselves.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco of your druggist today, or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Santal Remedies Company 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

How to Cure Coughs and Colds.

Keep out of Drafts. Avoid Exposure. Eat and Live Right and Take Dr. King's New Discovery.

GOVERNORS HAVE A WEIGHTY TOPIC

Federal Reserve Bank Managers Will Decide Whether Citizen Must Pay a Fee.

HAVE F. R. B. CHECKS CASHED

Washington, April 12.—Attorney General Gregory will say today whether Mr. American Citizen must pay to have his Federal Reserve Bank checks cashed at Federal Reserve banks. Maybe Mr. Gregory will say the banks must cash them without charge at present, they pay.

That's one of the questions the Federal Reserve Bank Governors met here today to discuss. They came from all parts of the United States. They hope to make plans today for a standardized clearing house system for all the member banks.

The matter of charging exchange for cashing checks has been much muddled, each bank making its own exchange rate. The exchange is to be standardized or stopped altogether. There has been a good deal of wrangling about it between the banks.

The governors present are: Alfred L. Aiken, Boston; Benjamin Strong, Jr., New York; Charles J. Roads, Philadelphia; E. R. Fancher, Cleveland; George J. Seavy, Richmond; Joseph A. McCord, Atlanta; James B. McDougall, Chicago; Rolla Wells, St. Louis; Theodore Weld, Minneapolis; J. Z. Miller, Jr., Kansas City; and R. L. VanZandt, Dallas. Governor Archibald Kains of the San Francisco bank is in South America with the International High commission.

SENDS NOTICE ON SCHOOL SUPPLIES

State Examiner Gilbert H. Hendren Writes Letter Reminding Trustees of Rules.

REQUIREMENTS POINTED OUT

Copies of Every Notice Sent to Bidders Must Also be Sent to State Board.

State Examiner Gilbert H. Hendren of the state board of accounts has sent a letter to all township trustees and all other school officials throughout the state, explaining certain official phases of the requirements now in effect concerning the advertising for bids on school and township supplies by the trustees and advisory boards.

The letter accentuates the fact that copies of every notice to bidders that a trustee prepares, must be sent to the state board of accounts as soon as it is prepared. The letter follows:

"The advisory board in your township is required by law to meet on the first Tuesday in June (June 5), for the purpose of making a road levy.

"You should, during the month of April or May, proceed to give notice that you will receive bids for school and road supplies on that date. If the contemplated expenditures in any one class do not exceed $500, it is sufficient to give notice by posting for three weeks in five of the most public places in the township and also at or near the door of each postoffice therein. If the contemplated expenditures in any one class exceed $500, you should post notices as aforesaid and also advertise for bids in two leading newspapers published in the county, representing the two political parties casting the highest number of votes in the county at the last preceding election. You should also send a copy of any notice to bidders to this office (the state board of accounts.)

"This will require only one meeting of the advisory board, and by having the meetings on the same day throughout the state, you may, in a measure, prevent unscrupulous dealers from attending many lettings on different dates. It will also give dealers ample time to fill contracts before supplies are needed in September."

DISCUSS POOR PAY AT CONFERENCE

Pennsylvania Teachers Bewail Their Fate at Opening of "Schoolmen's Week" Today.

OFFICIAL ACTION LIKELY

(By United Press.) Philadelphia, April 12.—The meagre pay of school teachers will be discussed by educators from different parts of the country at the opening of the University of Pennsylvania's "School's Week" here today.

The meeting may take official action, pointing out the importance of having high-grade teachers for the nation's embryo citizens.

Particular attention will be given plans for the development of the "continuation classes" system in grade, country and high schools.

The "continuation classes," such as are now established in the schools here, are like college "post-graduate" course. They permit grade students to start their life work while continuing certain studies on part time. Dr. Lotus D. Coffman of Minnesota is to be one of the speakers.

1,000 PERSONS TO TAKE PART

The former and present students of Indiana University in this city are keenly interested in the pageant which is to be given on the Indiana University campus on May 16th, 17th and 18th. More than 1,000 people, men, women and children, will perform the history of the life of their community. Due to the fact that it is the first of the pageants to be given during the Indiana Centennial, a huge number of visitors from all parts of the state is expected to attend and take it as a model for the pageants which are to follow. Twelve episodes will constitute the action, emphasized by dialogue, pantomime, tableaux and dances.

The pageant is written by William Chaucey Langdon and the music by Charles Diven Campbell.

terior of the Hester home at Madison and Willard street where Hester received the wounds which caused his death in the Home hospital on the evening of November 21, 1915.

Arter, Mr. Cromer said, was one of the two roomers at the Hester home. He went home to the evening meal, according to the statement, in a sullen mood. He sat down at the table and spoke to Mr. Hester.

"There isn't a damned thing to eat," Arter is said to have remarked.

Hester had arisen from the table and gone to another room to get his coat and hat. He was about to go to a Christian Endeavor meeting at the A. M. E. church.

"Don't swear that way, Jesse," said Mr. Hester to Arter.

Arter angered, then replied, "There isn't a damned thing to eat on the table."

With that Arter is alleged to have pushed back his chair and reached into his right trouser's pocket for his knife. He opened it and started toward Hester. Another boarder in the house stepped in his way and attempted to reason with him.

"Don't do that Jess," the boarder said, trying to hold Arter back. "You're in another man's house."

Furious, Arter turned on the boarder and slashed at him with the knife, equipped with a blade three inches long, and cut a hole in the boarder's coat lapel.

"Get out of my way," Arter is said to have yelled, "or I'll kill you."

Hester, the attorney said, was just turning around when Arter jumped at him with the knife. Arter slashed Hester across the face a number of times. Hester backed away and picked up a chair, holding it in front of his face. Arter then grabbed the chair away and clinched, rolling over and over on the floor, Arter cutting furiously, slashing Hester's head, neck, arms and back. Mrs. Hester pleaded with him to let her husband up, ran to the telephone and, finally, across the street to Benadum's drug store.

When neighbors rushed into the Hester home they found Arter still cutting at Hester's neck and shoulders, slashing his antagonist's clothes to ribbons. Hester still was trying to protect himself.

When officers arrived Arter had closed his bloody knife and had put it in his pocket.

"See," he said to the officers, "I haven't any knife."

Arter was taken to the police station and Hester to the Home hospital. The dying man, asked to tell of the fight, said just before he passed into unconsciousness:

"I told Jess not to swear in the house—"

Hester died a few minutes after arriving at the Home hospital.

Dressed in black and sobbing frequently as the story of the murder was told, Mrs. Hester was the first witness for the state. She told the story of the murder, of Arter's boast that he had "killed two men" and of his sullen anger on the night of the murder. She was expected to be one of the state's strongest witnesses.

CURT GOSNELL GOES TO MUNCIE

Former Rushville Trainer Opens Work With a Very Promising String

SINGLE G. IS HEADLINER

He is Entered in Only One Race

Thus Far—Wilbur S. Also Believed a Comer

Muncie, Indiana, April 12.—

When Curt Gosnell, formerly of Cambridge City, decided to transfer his spring training quarters to Muncie, the whole light-harness world pricked up its ears to the importance of the Muncie track for training purposes. For years it has been known as one of the best plants in the Middle West but never had been taken seriously by the larger trainers until Gosnell with his bay stud, Single G. and the little bay pacer Wilbur S. who looks equally as good same here.

Gosnell is at the Muncie track now in all the glory of his seventeen head of fast steppers. He has a whole battery of assistants—and there are others, trainers coming on later. Gosnell is sparing no pains, money or energy in putting his string into first class condition.

Over the snow-covered cinders of the fair grounds he has jogged his steppers out for two or three months, but Gosnell, the veteran horseman, who received the deserved praise all along the Grand Circuit last season, has carried on his work very quietly—so quietly in fact that those not in direct touch with the horseworld have not known that he was here except in a general way. Yet, quartered at the local track, are horses who, next late-summer and early-fall may set the big tracks afire with their speed and who may send records on the blink.

And Gosnell is immensely satisfied with the local track.

"It is one of the best half mile tracks in the country," said Gosnell.

"The new buildings and equipment generally are very good. When the new barn is completed—I refer to the big thirty-stall new building that the fair association is erecting—the local grounds, for training purposes is going to be hard to beat."

And Gosnell even hinted that the local track might be the permanent winter quarters of the greater string of pacers and trotters which he has gathered under his protecting wing.

Gosnell's string of horses is one of the best ever gathered together in Indiana. Single G. 2:02½, by Anderson Wilke, 2:21½; dam, Little Gyp by Shoely Gyp, heads the list. But Gosnell asserts that there are others in his string besides Single G. He intimated that he expects a great deal of Wilbur S. half brother of Single G.—a horse with a record of 2:08½ and all kind of possibilities. Among the other notables of the Gosnell string is the mare, Hazel Armstrong, 2:07½.

Of the string Single G. is by far the most popular although Gosnell says that his Wilbur S. may come up and be just as good. The little bay pacer horse who last year started the Grand Circuit with his sensational pacing feats, appears in excellent condition. Horsemen who have seen the game little son of Anderson Wilkes assert he is solid as a rock and hasn't an ounce of fat on him. Although the stud has not been worked out for a time Gosnell is confident he will better his mark made at Lexington last fall.

"If Single G. goes no faster than last year I'll miss my guess," said a writer in the Horse Review recently. The pacer is being jogged daily, according to Gosnell and will be worked out on the track as soon as the runway is in condition.

Single G. is entered in only one race so far—the $3,000 free-for-all pace at Kalamazoo. He probably will be entered in the big racing stakes all along the Grand Circuit.

Gosnell is enthusiastic over the prospects of his Wilbur S.

"He is a half-brother of Single G. and has shown 2:06½," said Gosnell. "He is game to the core. I am expecting big things of him this year."

The horse is a little bay, almost identical with Single G. and, if anything prettier, which is saying a whole lot, by the way.

Hazel Armstrong, is another princely little mare of the Gosnell stables. She has gone 2:07½ and could do a whole lot better if put to the test, it is said. She probably will be entered in the Grand Circuit.

Gosnell has taken a new one into the fold—the big bay pacer Dan H. 2:10½, owned by Jake Hensley of Yorktown, and a horse which has been a familiar figure to those who attend the fairs in northeastern Indiana each year. Don H. formerly was trained by Dan Ruth of Yorktown. He is a big horse with a good steady stride, and easily handled. Under the tutelage of Gosnell he promises to develop into a fast one.

Billy Milton, 2:23½, a pacer owned by Billy Caldwell is another acquisition to the Gosnell stables. The horse is a good one and ought to make good.

Cochato Joy, 2:16, by Cochato, three-year-old roan trotter, owned by J. M. Sadler of Muncie is one of the young horses under Gosnell's wing. The big roan son of Cochato made a most favorable impression when he went a mile in 2:16 in the Indiana State fair meet at Indianapolis last fall. He has a world of speed and size which stands him in good stead. He may be a sensation as a three-year old.

Gosnell probably will break his stable up into two parts—the big one, with Single G. in the lead, to campaign through the Grand Circuit, and the other and slower squad to make the county fairs.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Rushville Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders, is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove comforting words to hundreds of Rushville readers.

John Heany, 616 W. 3rd, St., Rushville, says: "A short time ago I began to have trouble with my kidneys. The secretions passed too frequently both day and night, obliging me to get up several times. They were also highly colored and filled with sediment. My back was weak and lame too. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Johnson's Drug Store, and they relieved me a great deal."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Heany had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Swift's Fertilizers Continue to Make Winners

If you used Swift's Fertilizer and obtained the best yield in the state you would, of course, give our fertilizer the credit that was due it. NOW, if the following year's Champion used Swift's and this performance repeated from year to year, you naturally would begin to think that Swift's Red Steer Brand is a pretty good fertilizer, would you not?

Look at the Record and Decide Yourself.

There can be no better proof of the value of a fertilizer than the records made by those who use it. There must be merit in a fertilizer that produces the results stated below:

Mr. Will Essig, Tipton, Indiana—131 bushels corn per acre. The largest yield of which there is any record in Indiana. Mr. Essig was recently awarded a gold medal at the Panama Exposition. Used SWIFT'S.

Mr. Norris McHenry, Elizabethtown, Ind.—112 bushels per acre. Winner of the Indiana 1914 Men's Five Acre Corn Contest. Used SWIFT'S. In 1915 he was induced to use other than Swift's Fertilizer and got no prize.

Mr. F. R. McHenry, Norris' father—used no fertilizer in 1914 and won no prize, but as his son won the State Championship in 1914 with the aid of Swift's Fertilizer, Mr. McHenry used Swift's in 1915, got 87.3 bushels of ripe corn per acre and won the sweepstakes for men in the Bartholomew County Five Acre Corn Contest.

The 1st, 2d, 3d and 4th prizes for the highest yields of good quality corn in the 1915 Five Acre Corn Contest for men in Bartholomew County, Indiana, all went to users of Swift's Fertilizer. Also in the Boys' One Acre Corn Contest in the same county, the 1st, 2d, 3d and 4th prizes went to users of Swift's Fertilizer.

The Ohio 1914 Champion Corn Grower, Arnett Rose, Alger, Ohio—153.9 bushels—used SWIFT'S.

The Ohio 1915 Champion Corn Grower, Dewey Haines, Arcanum, Ohio—154 bushels—used SWIFT'S.

The Indiana 1914 Boy Champion Corn Grower, Roy Friedersdorf, Elizabethtown, Ind.—128.8 bu.—used SWIFT'S.

Gordon Reap, Elizabethtown, Indiana, who was third last year, is County Champion with 105.73 bushels. He also used SWIFT'S this year.

There certainly MUST be something in Swift's Fertilizers that PRODUCES RESULTS. Swift's blood, bone and tankage fertilizers make prize winners.

If YOU do not use Swift's Fertilizers, you are not sure that you are using the best fertilizer obtainable. You want the best—then buy SWIFT'S—the Red Steer Brand.

WILDS OF CHINA TO BE EXPLORED

American Explorer and Bride Start For Honeymoon in Jungles —After Big Game.

WILL BE IN FIELD ONE YEAR

Few Women Have Ever Undertaken a Journey so Extensive and Hazardous as This.

(By United Press.)
Yokohama, April 12.—Boy C. Andrews and his bride arrived here today from New York and San Francisco on the steamer Tenyo Maru, equipped and ready to start on their long honeymoon trip and tiger hunt through the remote wilds of Western China. Little Mrs. Andrews probably is the first white girl to go into such a land, on such a mission for her honeymoon.

Andrews is in charge of the American Museum of Natural History's Asiatic zoological expedition, and he and his bride are to bring back with them tigers, leopards, elephants, specimens of the rare "Snow Leopard" and "huge, Maltese Brown Man-Eating Tiger," together with many other wild beasts of the Chinese jungles and mountains.

Mrs. Andrews is the photographer of the expedition. She carries a new motion picture camera, invented by Carl Akeley. African explorer and elephant takers. She also will take color pictures of animals in the mountains of China.

"We will go right into the field of tiger hunting upon our arrival in China," said Mrs. Andrews, "and if we are fortunate we will send some fine specimens of man eating tiger to the Museum. If our hopes are fulfilled the members of our party will begin to look for big game about the second week in May. Our schedule calls for a year of actual work in the field."

At Peking the expedition will obtain letters to the viceroys of the different Provinces in China. Around Foochow, a large city on the coast between Shanghai and Hong Kong, the tiger hunting will begin, for it is in this region the tiger abounds.

"From Peking," said Andrews "we will sail down the coast to Fu-Chau, in Fu-Kien Province. Here Mr. Heller and Perry Caldwell, a missionary, will join us for a hunt through the Bohea Mountains, some 300 miles inland from the Strait of Formosa. There is big game in this region and we should obtain some valuable and new specimens."

"From Fu-Kien my wife, Heller

and I will go up the coast to the mouth of the great Yangtze River by steamer, which will take us up the Yangtze to Tung-ting Lake. Here we will follow another stream by floatboats as far as we can get toward Wei-Chan Province.

"This province is one of the wildest and the most difficult to enter in China. There are no roads and few inhabitants. The country is mountainous and rugged. This will be the main field for our work on this trip, though we probably will push on into the province of Yunnan, unless the revolution that has recently broken out there makes it too dangerous. We may even go into Tibet."

"All this country is semi-tropical; cold in the mountainous regions and warm in the valleys. This part of Central Asia probably formed the birthplace of the human race."

Few women have even undertaken a journey so extensive and hazardous as this. Mrs. Andrews has inherited an adventurous disposition. She is the daughter of Major Henry Borup, U. S. A., and the sister of the young Arctic explorer, George Borup, who was drowned on Peary's North Pole expedition. Though Roy C. Andrews is still young, he has gained a reputation as a naturalist and has twice encircled the world. His companion, Edmund Heller, besides his trip with the Roosevelt African expedition, has been with one of Paul Rainey's expeditions and has just returned from the Yale Peruvian expedition.

"Animal life of Central Asia is of the greatest interest to the scientist," Andrews added. "Most of the larger animals of the North American continent have their ancestors there. The mountain sheep of the Rockies, the elk, the moose and the buffalo migrated northward through China and crossed Bering Strait in days when the strait was dry land."

SENT TO JAIL; FINDS BIG LEGACY

Publicity From Arrest on Charge of Fraud Lead to Discovery of Unknown Wealth.

NOW ON HIS WAY TO DENMARK

(By United Press.)
Warren, Pa., April 12.—Ten months ago Martin Nelson was so hard up that he didn't care how he got money. Shortly afterward he was convicted of obtaining it under false pretenses and was sent to jail for six months. The publicity caused by his arrest led to his discovery by friends who had good news for him.

Today Nelson was off for his old home in Denmark to claim a legacy of $6,000. Had he never been sent to jail probably he never would have heard of the legacy. So, at least, the Danish Consul declared. He said that he had been seeking Nelson for five years. The newspaper clipping telling of Nelson's arrest and imprisonment in the Warren County jail was the first trace he got of him.

Mothers! You can Save Money on Boys' Clothing

Mothers often buy their boys the lowest-priced suits they can find believing this to be the most economical way, but it is not actually the case

A garment cheaply or carelessly made gives out at some or all points so much sooner than the one thoroughly made that frequently two of the poorly made suits are worn out during the life of a good one.

Perhaps the good suit will cost more, but not twice as much. Therefore, in the course of a few months you have actually saved money on the better suit.

Of All Boys Clothing Xtragood Has the Better Making

A large choice of fabrics in single and double-breasted Norfolks. Some box-plaited; nifty patch pockets on others; belts one and three-piece and extra trousers if you desire.

XTRAGOOD is made on a plan of double reinforcement of all wear-points. The pockets are extra-staid, trousers are full-lined with the best of strong twill lining. Collars are hand-felled, and the front and shoulders tailored carefully so that they will not readily wrinkle or lose their shape. It not only gives longer wear service, but during the time of wear maintains the stylish appearance of a new garment.

This extraordinary care throughout the production of XTRAGOOD results in better style appearance and greater satisfaction during wearing-time than can be obtained from ordinary clothing.

ICE BLOCKS GREAT LAKE STEAMERS

Large Shipments of Grain and Ore Delayed Because of Blockade at Straits.

MAY NOT OPEN BEFORE MAY 1

(By United Press.)
Milwaukee, Wis., April 12.—"When will the ice go out of the straits?" was the big question today in every port on the Great Lakes. Riding at anchor in ports along the lakes are hundreds of steamers, loaded to the gunwales with ore, coal and grain waiting for word that "the Straits are open."

An early start means millions of dollars to the shipping men. Sometimes the Straits have opened as early as April 10; in other years not until May 1. Shipping men aren't going to waste any time getting started this year on account of the great demand for coal and grain. The mining companies in Upper Michigan are anxious for coal—their winter supply being nearly exhausted—and they are offering big money to the vessel men who will bring the first cargoes into port.

UP-TO-NOW IN DESIGN

Designs as shown by some firms are more or less freakish or fadish to attract the attention of the prospective customers with scarcely a thought of their wearing appearance or correctness in proportion. But then they are merely on paper and represent but a small loss if they don't take.

We have faith in our ability as practical designers and as proof we show at our works a most complete selection of ready to erect monuments designed by our nationally recognized designer, Mr. A. H. Schrichte. J. B. SCHRICHTE SONS MONUMENTS 117-121 S. MAIN ST.

SETS NEW MARK FOR HOMETALENT SHOWS

"The Smuggler" to be Given by Jackson School Friday Night, Promises Much

100 PUPILS IN THE CASTE

There are one hundred children in the caste of "The Smuggler," the operetta which will be given by Jackson school at the Graham Annex auditorium Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. The entertainment promises to be one of the best if not the best home talent show ever seen here. The costumes are very beautiful and appropriate to the theme of the play. The minuet, the Mother Goose scene and the splendid acting of the pupils are expected to be especially popular.

The price of admission—ten cents for children of the first grades and twenty cents for those above the eighth grade and adults—is conceded to be very low, considering the kind of a show it will be, but pupils of Jackson school wished everyone to have an opportunity to see it.

The proceeds will be used to purchase supplementary and reference books and such additions to the equipment for the betterment of the pupils as the school shall deem best.

CINCINNATI MAY ADOPT MONKEYS AND ELEPHANTS TODAY.

Cincinnati, April 12.—A special election here today will determine whether $300,000 in bonds shall be issued to purchase the zoo, making the collection of animals a municipal asset. If the bond issue is carried, a campaign will be launched to secure a $250,000 endowment to help maintain the zoo. Cincinnati already owns and operates a railroad, university and hospital.

BOYS NOMINATION: IS GIVEN PAROLE

William Willett, Convicted, For Purchasing New York Judgeship, Set Free Today.

HE WAS A MODEL PRISONER

(By United Press.) New York, April 12.—The tall, iron doors of Great Meadow prison swung open at dawn today and out walked William Willett, the New York politician who went to the penitentiary on conviction of buying a New York State Supreme Court Judgeship nomination from Joe Cassidy, former political leader of the Borough of Queens.

Willett is out on parole. During the part of his sentence he served in Sing Sing Willett was the star model prisoner, once winning the Lewishon $20 prize for being the most ideal prisoner there.

Although of course he did not realize on his purchase of the Supreme Court Judgeship, Willett's judicial temperament did not go to waste in prison, because he was a member of Thomas Mott Osborne's Mutual Welfare League Supreme Court, at the bar of which he served "with honor and distinction." Cassidy, from whom Willett bought his nomination, was released on parole several weeks ago and is back in New York politics, more or less.

House Insurance For Business Men

This is the day of Insurance — Insurance against Death, Accident, Sickness, Fire and Decay transfers hazard into security. A few gallons of Sherwin Williams Paint if used according to directions insures your house for years against the hazard of wind, rain, sleet and decay. SHERWIN WILLIAMS PAINT is the old time insurance policy of 90 per cent of the world's greatest railroads and corporations. Specify and demand it because of the low eventual cost is their criterion of value and their cheapest insurance.

Just two things to look for—the color and name of manufacturer, as you can't possibly see the absolute quality and service that is built in the can.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush kidneys
if bladder bothers you—Drink
lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

LEAGUE SEASON GETS UNDER WAY

General Organized Ball and His
Boys Pry Off the Lid Today
Playing First Games.

LOOK FOR PROFITABLE YEAR

Only Three Teams Remain Same as
Last Year and Pretty Races
Are Predicted.

WHERE THEY PLAY TODAY.

Washington at New York; Philadelphia at Boston.

National League—Chicago at

New York at Philadelphia; Boston
at Brooklyn.

BY THE SPORT SEER.

(Written for United Press.)

New York, April 12.—Twenty-five thousand small boys slunk into the attic today and got the augur out of pa's tool chest. They spent most of the morning boring holes through the wood and concrete fences surrounding the eight biggest parks where that famous and well known sport, baseball, will blossom again this afternoon.

While this has nothing to do with the story, the fact remains that the small boys, together with some 200,000 he's and she's will be on hand when eight mupires clear eight husky throats and bark "Play Ball" in the American and National Leagues this afternoon.

These 200,000, having passed the age of boring holes in fences, will pay to get in and thus start the change pouring into baseball coffers at the beginning today of what the magnates say will be a record breaking year.

Old Doc Prosperity, with a little peace dove serum, has inoculated the fans, the magnates say, and all are cured of the malady that has proved so costly for the last four years—Federalitis.

Sport writers, players and just plain fans united with the magnates in their prediction that 1916 baseball will not only drive war, Mexico and the justly famous petticoat fashions out of the newspapers and the public mind, but will stack up bank rolls that will repay old Mr. O. B. for the wads of change lost in the conflict with the Feds.

The absence of the Federals as a third contender, and the spirit of friendship that now permeates organized baseball is a new factor. New millions are backing the game. The Chicago Cubs-Wailes have the power of the mail order house, the restaurant trust in the middle west, the packing interests and the chewing gum trusts them.

And Charlie Weeghman, the controlling factor in this combination of national and federal league players, says he will spend much money if necessary. This same spirit, Weeghman says, is backing the other teams, though none of the others could sit in a game of freezeout with Weeghman.

When the season opened today only three teams were practically the same as last year—the Chicago White Sox, the Washington Americans and the Phillies. The others which have recruited new players from the erstwhile Feds, didn't look the same. Benny Kauff, star Fed infielder, was romping around today in a Giants' uniform. Joe Tinker, Moderecai Brown and a score of others, once famous in the big leagues before they flocked to the Feds, were back in O. B. uniforms again.

Along with the Cock Robins, blushing violets, cold-in-the-head, poets and other signs of spring, the baseball prophet awoke from a long, long sleep today. They admitted, however, that even though they were prophets they couldn't guess which of the sixteen teams that started the season today, would get the big type in the flush extras October.

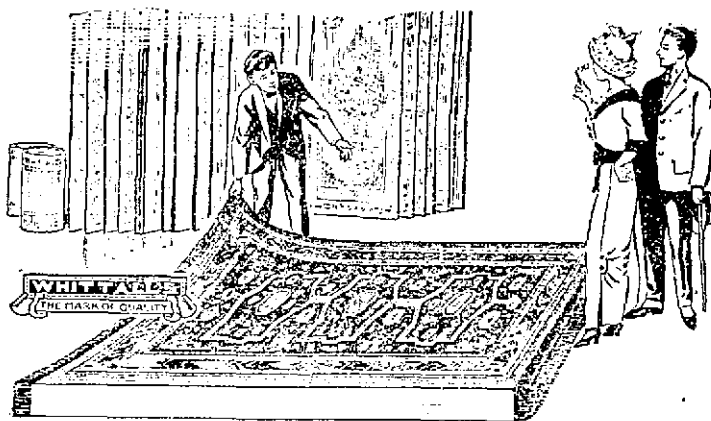

The Red Sox, who got all the grapes last year, were playing today on their own grounds, with a

FIFTH ANNUAL MEETING OPENS

Woman's Franchise League of Indiana Begins Three Days Convention in Indianapolis.

BIG FIGHT TO COME FRIDAY

Effort Will be Made to Defeat Amelia Keller For President—Two Factions.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 12.—The fifth annual state convention of the Woman's Franchise League of Indiana opened a three day session here today with headquarters at the Hotel Claypool.

Mrs. Ovid Butler Johnson, vice-chairman in the absence of Miss Eleanor P. Barker, General Chairman, will be in charge of the meeting.

A banquet on Thursday evening will be the main social affair of the convention.

The big fight of the convention will come Friday with the election of president, when a strenuous effort will be made by the faction opposed to President Amelia Keller to defeat her and elect Mrs. Margaret J. Gill of Muncie. The controlling factor in this will be a ruling on whether 400 members of the league will have organized the Congressional Union of Indiana, shall be allowed to vote. If they vote they will vote for Mrs. Keller, it is said.

Cincinnati—"Best club we've ever had."

Detroit—Ty Cobb, Sam Crawford, Veatch. That's all."

Washington—"We'll show Mrs. Wilson something."

You pays your money and you takes your choice.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle.

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.
